

THE NEWS-BULLETIN

Vol. 16. No. 11

Mokena, Will County, Illinois,

Friday, November 3, 1933

$1.50 Per Year In Advance

HENRY NIEMANN, FORMER COM. DIES IN TINLEY

Henry Niemann, aged 75 years, 6 months and 16 days, and a resident of Tinley Park for 25 years, died at his home in that village at 2 o'clock Tuesday morning.

He suffered a heart attack a few weeks ago from which he did not rally although he was not confined to bed until the last days.

Mr. Niemann was born in Tinley Park April 15, 1858. On April 15, 1883 he was united in marriage with Wilhelmina Brookmann. To this union seven children were born of whom one child preceded the father in death.

Mr. Niemann resided in Frankfort township for many years and served as highway commissioner of that township for a number of years.

After leaving the farm he located in Tinley Park and worked for a long time for the Rock Island railroad as flagman at the crossing west of the Tinley Park depot until the railroad installed the crossing flashers now in use.

Mr. Niemann was a good neighbor and friend and a devoted husband and father and was highly esteemed by all who knew him.

Surviving are his widow, two sons, Peter and Charles, four daughters, Sophia Nagle, Minnie Schilling, Louise Umland, and Margaret Kimmel; two sisters and fourteen grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Thursday afternoon from the late home to the Zion Lutheran church with the Rev. Albert Buddenhagen officiating. Burial was made in the Zion Lutheran cemetery.

Milk Producers

Win Long Fight

After a long fight the milk prices paid the Chicago Producers were finally approved by Secretary Henry Wallace of the Department of Agriculture.

The prices approved by Secretary Wallace effective November 1 are $1.93 for base milk produced under the new basic allotment.

Herewith you will get an explanation as to how the new deal and new prices apply.

At the Advisory Board meeting held in Chicago on October 12 a thorough discussion was led by Manager Geyer and attorney Wood regarding the obstacles that are seemingly holding up the approval of the amendment to the Chicago Milk agreement. Late in the afternoon the following resolution was presented and unanimously accepted.

"Whereas the purchasing power of the dairy farmer has not been improved as yet due to the fact that other industries are getting first consideration and

Whereas, the delays seem absolutely unnecessary in view of the facts and figures now in the hands of the Agricultural Administrators,

Be it Resolved by the delegates of the Pure Milk Association in regular meeting assembled that we demand immediate action on the part of the Government to guarantee to the dairy farmer in this milk shed a better price for his milk.

Be it further Resolved, that we empower our Board of Directors to take what ever steps are necessary to cancel the trade agreement, cancel the license and even to withhold our milk to convince authorities that we demand action."

In another article next week a further outline of the new deal will be given.

Hold Surprise

Halloween Party

A group of twenty-seven friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Wannemacher on Front street in Mokena Monday evening as a surprise, honoring their recent marriage. The guests were all masked and much merriment was had by costumes and their wearers. Games were played and refreshments were served. Mrs. Wm. Lorenz on behalf of the guests presented Mr. and Mrs. Wannemacher with a sum of money as a gift to which both replied, thanking all for their friendly expression.

Echoes from The Past

Died at her home in Mokena, Oct. 15, 1900 Mrs. Christian Schattley after a long illness with paralysis and a complication of diseases, aged 75 years. The deceased is survived by her husband and one son here and a daughter in Chicago. She was an old resident of Mokena and was one of its best known citizens. The funeral took place Wednesday services being conducted in German in the German Evangelical church by Rev. C. Schaub. Interment was in the German cemetery.

—Lockport Advertiser.

Will County Farm Bureau Meeting at Mokena Nov. 10

On Friday, November 10, at 7:30 an important meeting of the Farm Bureau will be held at St. Mary's Hall, Mokena.

At this meeting interesting and instructive talks will be given by Mr. Braham the Will county Farm Adviser and by Mr. Barret, Cook county Farm Adviser and by his assistant, Mr. Tasher.

The subjects discussed by the gentlemen will deal with corn and hog control and most important of all is the Fall control of the chinch bug.

An interesting program has also been arranged for the entertainment of those who attend this meeting.

The program is as follows:

Musical selections by the Orchestra Songs by the Quartet.

Musical selections, Hawaiian Guitar by special arrangement.

A Four act comedy play that promises to be a hearty laugh from start to finish.

After the entertainment refreshments will be served, followed by dancing.

Niagatri Club

Elects Officers

The Niagatri Girls Club of Tinley Park held their regular meeting at the home of Mrs. John Swisher in Tinley Park Saturday, October 28th.

There was a good attendance. The newly elected officers are as follows:

President, Gen. Ouleman
Vice-President, Helen Hirsch.
Secretary, Mereda Robinson.
Treasurer, Marion Funk.
Historian, Ruth Freitag.
Cheer leader, Marion Moss.

Our last president, Ilean Mohr, and her staff of officers served the club well last year and we hope our new workers will prove as efficient. Many new projects were discussed for the year's work. A circle of sunshine sisters has been formed and at this early date they are busy with interesting little surprises. The other morning Mrs. Swisher found a pretty little gift and a cheery little note tucked between the front doors of her home.

Don't forget our Bakery Sale to be held in John Funk's store, Saturday Nov. 4 at 2 o'clock. Your donations, no matter how small, also your patronage, will be greatly appreciated. Money earned in this way will be used to bring comfort to those less fortunate than ourselves. Remember our Motto: "DO FOR OTHERS".

The Halloween party was a huge success. The costumes were lovely and all enjoyed a swell time.

De Soto Players

Coming to Mokena

The well known DeSoto Players of Joliet will present a comedy drama in 4 acts entitled "Gilded Youth" at the St. Mary Hall in Mokena on Thursday evening, November 9th. The curtain will rise at 8 p. m.

Everyone is invited. The DeSoto players need no introduction in Mokena as they are too well known here.

Bremen Tax Books

In Cook County

Assessor's Office

The Bremen Township tax books for 1932 real estate valuation will be placed on the counters of J. L. Jacobs, Cook County assessor, office room 312 County Building, Chicago, starting Monday November 6th and up to and including November 10th. These are the only days complaints can be filed with the county assessor.

Mokena M. E.

Bazaar Nov. 10th

The Mokena M. E. Ladies Aid annual bazaar and supper will be held at the St. John's church parlors commencing at 2:30 p. m., Friday, Nov. 10th. A program will also be given.

Dr. Mattei to Sing

At Orland M. E.

Dr. Hugo Mattei of Joliet will be the guest soloist for next Sunday morning at the Orland Park M. E. church, singing two numbers, the one "Blessed Redeemer" by Dune and "Ave Maria" by Schipa.

Dr. Mattei is one of the leading soloists in Joliet and possesses a true Italian tenor. He is a man who thru both his profession as doctor well known thruout the State of Illinois and surrounding states.

His daughter, Miss Rosella Mattei, a very accomplished musician, will accompany him.

Dr. Mattei is one of the well known musical family of Mattei Brothers.

MANY AT LAST RITES FOR MRS. ANDREW CURE

Mrs. Andrew Cure, nee. Lange of Palos, and widely known in the Orland territory, died October 26th at the age of 45 years, 9 months and 6 days.

She was born January 20, 1888 in Worth and lived there with her parents until she was married to Andrew Cure of Palos township, October 10th, 1908. Had she been well the Cures would have celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary this month.

Their marriage was blessed with three children. They are: Mrs. Hazel Carlson, Homewood and a son Lawrence and a daughter Clara at home.

Mrs. Cure was in good health until about three years ago when a goiter developed to the extent that an operation became necessary in the Fall of 1931. From this operation she seemed to have fully recovered, but later the early part of this year her strength and health again began to fail and since April she was under the doctor's care. For the last three weeks she was bed-fast until she passed away peacefully in her home last Thursday evening at 11:15.

The immediate cause of her death is ascribed to leakage of the heart and hemorrhages.

Mrs. Cure was a faithful communicant member of Christ Lutheran church for a number of years and attended regularly when her health permitted it.

Surviving beside her husband and children are one grand child; her aged father; four brothers, Edward, Albert, William, Louis and a host of other relatives and friends.

The funeral services were held on Monday afternoon from the home to the Christ Lutheran church where the pastor, Rev. O. Lach, spoke comforting words, basing his remarks on Rev. 14. 13. A host of friends and relatives accompanied the departed to church and finally to her resting place in Sleepy Hollow Cemetery.

Morning Star

Mission Will

Observe Birthday

For 24 years the Morning Star Mission at Joliet has been a veritable star of hope to many people.

Supt. Peter McCarthy has made the following interesting report for the 24th year of Christian activity: Conversions 477; free meals, 30, 903; free beds 4005; free clothing to 1533 persons; free new testaments 120; free gospels 1200; police court and jail visits 298; relief to 159 families; paid rail road fares for 59 persons.

The Morning Star flops are now open to the homeless and jobless men free for all. These flops have been a shelter for thousands every year.

The Morning Star Mission will be celebrating its birthday the latter part of this month.

Dr. Stanley Jones

Coming to Joliet

Dr. E. Stanley Jones, world famous missionary and writer will lead a United Missionary Conference in Joliet, Wednesday, Nov. 8th. His party includes Dr. H. C. Liu, President of University of Shanghai; Miss Yifang Wu, President of Gindling College, China; Lillian Picken, inspiring social worker from India. Bishop L. H. Roots of Hankow, China.

10 a. m. there will be a ministers meeting. 12:15 p. m. Men's luncheon 2:30 Women's mass meeting at Central Presbyterian church. 7:30 p. m. Addresses by the Nationals at the Joliet High School Auditorium.

Orland Welfare

Clinic to Meet

The regular meeting of the Orland Park Infant Welfare Clinic will be held in the Orland Park public school house November 8th from 10 to 12 in the morning. All mothers are urged to bring children up to the ages of six years to the clinic.

Offers Reward

For Arrest of

Flower Thieves

Flower thieves who have been stealing from the dead are now doing the opposite and are stealing from the living. Fred G. Rauch of the Mokena Oil Co., had some very pretty rose bushes growing on the grounds of the company and recently some thief dug up the rose bushes and others were pulled out by the roots. Mr. Rauch has a notice in this issue offering a $10 reward for the arrest and conviction of the thief or thieves.

Halloween Pranks Border on Vandalism

Many of the Halloween pranks this year bordered on vandalism. At Mokena windows were broken in the G. F. Wannemacher store, the Mokena Tavern in the Sutter Building and in the Braun pool hall. Gangs of boys pelted passing automobiles with tomatoes. Wednesday noon a man from Chicago appeared in Mokena and said that while he was driving on the Wolf road someone threw a beet at his car, breaking a window. The broken glass cut his wife's face. He threatened to get out warrants.

Two special police, Tom Moore and Fred Steinhagen were on duty Halloween night. People don't mind some harmless pranks, but do object to property damage.

At Tinley Park postmaster C. Andres appeared to be the target for the Halloween pranks. The post office windows were smeared with gobs of grease and papers saturated with grease were stuffed in the out door mail box.

Mrs. C. Andres reports that the Halloween pranksters were destructive at her place and says she does not understand why she had to be picked on and feels that the parents are too blame for allowing their children to do acts of vandalism. John C. Andres, cashier of the Bremen State Bank estimates that he had a loss of $15 or more when an out building was dropped on a hedge in front of his home. It had taken him ten years to raise the hedge.

Some of the parents feel that a good many folks forget they were children once and did stunts too on Halloween and should not be too hard in criticising the youth of today.

Quite a number of Halloween parties were held.

A real funny stunt was pulled in Tinley. When Christ Goesel went to milk his cow Wednesday morning the bovine was missing. When Police Chief Harry Uthe went to his garage he was surprised to find a strange cow parked in the garage. After awhile the bovine was returned to her owner when Chief Uthe heard that Mr. Goesel had lost his bossy.

Orland Girl Weds

Indiana Man

Miss Ruth Newton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Newton of Orland township and Nobel Gintner of Indian were married last Saturday. The groom has been working for Art Schilling. A social affair in their honor was held in the Orland M. E. church parlors Wednesday night.

Fog Causes

Auto Accident

While the Misses Evelyn Wachter of Mokena and Miss Dorothy Entwistle of Chicago and Roy Newton of Orland and Lester Niemann of Tinley Park were driving on the Southwest Highway to Chicago Sunday night in the latter car, they encountered a heavy fog and smoke from burning peat bogs east of Palos so they could not see ahead and crashed into the rear of another car. Both girls were slightly hurt. The boys escaped injury. The front of the car was badly smashed.

Mokena Orchestra

To Play at Worth

The Wachter orchestra of Mokena has been engaged to play for the big Armistice Day dance which the Orland Park Post of the American Legion will sponsor at the Hildebrandt Hall in Worth on Saturday evening, November 11th.

Orland Boy

Kills Rattler

Roy Glahn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frances Glahn of Orland Park who is in Nebraska now, killed a rattlesnake last week with 12 rattles. Roy is going to spend the winter with relatives in Nebraska.

This Fellow

Sets Record

A veritable wild man of Borneo spent a night at the Mokena jail the forepart of the week. He said he had not shaved in 12 years and had not taken a bath in 16 years.

Will Hold

Community Sale

A community sale will be held on the farm located at 147th and Ridge land Avenue commencing at 10 a. m., on Saturday, November 11th. Horses, cattle and merchandise is to be sold. Lunch will be served on the grounds. Henry Kimmel of Orland Park is the manager and Erickson and Schmaedecke will be the auctioneers.

Checking Figures On Wheat Is Now Being Completed

Complaints of corrections and errors in the official allotment figures as published in the November 3rd issue of the News-Bulletin are now being received by the Will County Wheat Production Control Association, and as soon as this work is finished, the official contracts for acreage adjustment will be made up and mailed to all cooperating growers, it is announced by Mungo J. Patterson, president of the association.

Publication of the allotments is furnishing the second check on the accuracy of the figures, it was pointed out. Previously the acreage and production claims of all farmers who had made application for acreage contracts were published. The idea is to give all interested farmers an opportunity to pass on the final figures before they are entered on the contracts.

Drawing up of the contracts will be the last step in bringing local farmers the cash benefits of the government's wheat production adjustment campaign, it was pointed out. As soon as the signed contracts are returned to the county office by the cooperating farmers, they will be sent on to Washington to be used by the Secretary of Agriculture as the basis for the benefit payments which will come to this county.

In these contracts, cooperating farmers agree to reduce their 1934 wheat acreage 15 per cent below their average acreage for the base period. Most of the benefit payment which will be made to them for doing this will be paid this fall at the rate of 20 cents a bushel on their allotment. The remainder or about 5 to 8 cents a bushel, will be paid next spring upon satisfactory proof that the terms of the contract have been carried out.

The allotment on which cooperating growers will get the benefit payments is approximately 54 per cent of their average annual production during the three years of the base period, 1930-1932 after necessary adjustments had been made. Fifty-four per cent is the proportion of the national wheat crop which is consumed in this country as human food, the idea being to give farmers a parity for that part of their crop which is used domestically.

Enough farmers in this county have signed up so that they have a total allotment sufficient to bring them a total of $37,539 on the 1933 crop alone.

Mokena Garden Club

Meets Next Tuesday

The Mokena Garden Club will meet at the home of Mrs. John Balaz next Tuesday afternoon Nov. 7th.

Goeselville Ball

Club to Give Dance

The Goeselville Baseball Club will sponsor a dance at the new Bachelor Grove Dance Hall on Wednesday, November 15th.

Tinley Park Rifle

Club Active

The Tinley Park Rifle Club have moved their shooting gallery from the Community Hall to the Saenger Hall. There are 20 members in the club and the one who has highest score at each shoot will get a goose and the one holding the highest of all the combined scores at the end of the shoot just before Thanksgiving will be presented with a turkey.

MRS. ED. YUNKER OF ORLAND DIES WED. FORENOON

Mrs. Edward Yunker died at her home in Orland township Wednesday forenoon. She had been ill for some time. Surviving are her husband, two sons and one daughter. Funeral services will be held today (Friday) at the late home at 1 o'clock and at the Orland Park M. E. church at 1:45. Rev. E. J. Moritz, pastor of the St. John Evangelical church of Mokena will officiate. Burial in St. John's cemetery south of Mokena.

Start Sunday

Evening Club

At Mokena

A Sunday Evening Club has been formed at the Mokena M. E. church by the pastor, Rev. Ralph M. Gray.

The purpose of these meetings is to bring to the residents of Mokena and surrounding territory, speakers from the outside ministers and laymen who will bring their messages.

Last Sunday M. John, principal of the Mokena High School gave the first address before the club. His speech dealt with the different types of welfare work and welfare organizations, the influence of begging and the different types of begging. This subject was very interesting and very important.

Next Sunday Nov. 5th Rev. A. Mill or from Tenn., will speak his subject being "The Church and its meaning today."

Tinley Park Legion Aux. Unit

Mrs. Lester N. Stoltenberg,
Publicity Chairman

Tinley Park Unit of the American Legion Auxiliary, had their regular meeting on Friday evening October 27, 1933 with Mrs. Margaret West, president, presiding. After the usual presentation of the flag and the pledging of allegiance to it, the meeting was brought to order.

Reports on the various committees were given. Mrs. Felton, rehabilitation chairman and committee reported on their visit to Orland Park. Last week being Hospital Week, they baked several cakes and pies, and took them to the 40 and 8 camp for convalescents.

Friday, October 27, 1933 was Navy Day. Americanism chairman, Mrs. Swisher, was unable to attend the meeting, but she had several articles arranged, which consisted of interesting statistics on the present day navy. The members were asked to read these various items. Mrs. Felton also read a very interesting article.

The meeting was adjourned about 9:15, and ten ladies from the Tinley Park Unit attended the installation of officers at Englewood Unit in Chicago. Mr. Brandau and Mr. Rowden escorted the ladies.

The next regular meeting will be Friday evening Nov. 10, 1933. All members and ladies who are eligible to join are cordially invited to attend.

P. B. Hostert

Stricken By Stroke

P. B. Hostert, well known stock man and feed dealer of Orland township was stricken with a stroke of paralysis last Saturday night. The right side was affected. He has been unconscious since.

Your Local Bank

is interested in the prosperity and growth of you, community. Commodity prices and land values rise and fall, but one of the best stabilizers of local conditions is a sound bank with a creditable record. Your banking needs are carefully and safely handled by this bank which has served you long and faithfully.

WE OFFER COMPLETE BANKING SERVICE
CONSULT US ON YOUR BUSINESS PROBLEMS

ORLAND STATE BANK

A ROLL OF HONOR BANK

Banking Hours 9 a. m. to 3 p. m.

Telephone Orland Park 61

ILLINOIS
State News

John Winkelman, fifty, died in a hospital in Hillsboro from accidental gun shot wounds sustained while hunting.

Pearl Marie Walter, eighteen, high school girl of Elkhart, was killed when hit by a truck on highway. The impact broke the girl's neck. The driver of the truck did not stop.

Fred Reschke, thirty-three, of Geneseo was killed when he was crushed by a train.

Dave Schneidman, produce merchant, hanged himself at his home in Quincy.

Judge S. B. Montgomery, eighty-four, banker and former president of the Illinois Bankers' association, died in his home in Quincy.

Walter Stump, forty-eight, president of the Bluebird Coal company which operates near Carrier Mills, died from heart disease.

States Senator Harold G. Ward predicted that the Illinois commission on liquor control legislation, of which he is chairman, will have its report ready for action by the general assembly before prohibition repeal is completed.

Sixteen pit carloads of coal, mined on December 23, 1932, the day before the Moweaqua mine disaster took the lives of 54 miners, were hoisted to the surface from Moweaqua mine, the first coal to come up since the fatal accident.

Henry E. Marekoff, eighty-five years old, pioneer building contractor, died at his home in Elgin. Mr. Marekoff's firm built many of Elgin's largest business structures, churches, and schools. He was born in Germany and had made his home in Elgin 51 years. He was a member of Oriental consistory of Chicago. The widow and five children survive.

Four persons, two men and two women, were found dead on the floor of an apartment occupied by Claude A. Hicks of Bloomington. They apparently had died of gas poisoning. The dead are: Claude A. Hicks, Marie Baxter, James McCabe, Madeline Van Orstrand of Heyworth. The gas jets of a stove were open. A kitten also was found dead.

The National Life Insurance company of the United States with offices in Chicago, the largest life insurance company in Illinois, was placed in receivership by Judge William J. Lindsay of the Superior court. Petition for receivership was made by Attorney General Otto Kerner representing Ernest Palmer, state superintendent of insurance. Patrick J. Lucey, former attorney general and former co-receiver of Corporation Securities company, Insull investment trust, was appointed receiver, and posted bond of $100,000. Counsel for the company did not oppose the petition and officers admitted that the company's $1,000,000 capital and part of the surplus of $614,237 had been wiped out by the impairment of assets.

Four hundred members of the civilian conservation corps have been assigned to landscape two Chicago and highways this winter. One group will be encamped at St. Charles and will work on North avenue from the Fox river to the Des Plaines river. A second group will be encamped south of Elmhurst and work on Illinois 54, a new north and south route extending from Roosevelt road south through Hinsdale to the Joliet road.

The suit of the receiver of the City National bank of Herrin to recover securities deposited with the Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust company of Chicago to guarantee the deposits of the city of Marion, has been ordered reviewed by the United States Supreme Court. The Seventh Circuit Court of Appeals had held that the securities must be returned to the receiver. An appeal was taken by the city and the bank.

Clinton P. Bliss, fifty-eight, editor and publisher of Montgomery News, Hillsboro, who was elected first vice president of the Illinois Press association at Champaign, offered his resignation to C. R. Denson, Minook, president of the association. Reasons for his resignation are set forth in a statement made by him. "After due consideration of the fact that members of the Illinois Press association, at their meeting held Saturday in Champaign, saw fit to re-elect H. L. Williamson to the office of secretary," his statement said, "I feel that I cannot accept the honor bestowed upon me by the association in electing me first vice president. I therefore offer my resignation as first vice president, as I feel that I cannot serve with Mr. Williamson until he has proved himself innocent of the charges preferred against him by the governor of Illinois. I also wish to tender my resignation as a member of the Illinois Press association, which, I feel, has ceased to represent the publishers of Illinois."

Judge John H. Armstrong of Urbana denied Arnold Greenbush of Chicago, serving a term in Joliet penitentiary for robbery, his release on a writ of habeas corpus. The contention of Greenbush's attorney was that inasmuch as he had been paroled on two of five indictments he was entitled to release on the other three.

The home of Clarence Maynard, United Mine union local president at Gilchrist, was dynamited. The front part of the building was blown away and considerable other damage done. The Maynard family was not home when the bomb exploded.

Subsistence Homesteads Planned

PART of the "new deal," and a very important part, is the plan to get people back to the farm to live on "subsistence homesteads" which are to be financed by the government to the extent of $25,000,000. Dr. M. L. Wilson of the Interior department, director of the plan (left), is showing a model of one of the homesteads to W. A. Julian, treasurer of the United States.

BEDTIME STORY FOR CHILDREN

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

REDDY FOX ADMIRES
JERRY'S HOUSE

IF IN all the great world there is anybody pleasanter than Reddy Fox when he tries to be pleasant I don't know who it is. Of course in that handsome red coat of his he is very good looking, anyway. Then when he puts on the polite airs that no one knows better than he how to put on, brings into his eyes an innocent look, and smiles, he is as pleasant a fellow as you would care to meet. Only when he forgets and grins a little too broadly so that he shows all his long teeth does his face lose its pleasant look.

"Good Evening, Neighbor Jerry," Said He.

Now Reddy Fox was one of those who knew all about what was going on in the Smiling Pool. You know Reddy gets his living by knowing what is going on about him. Every night while Jerry Muskrat was at work on that new house Reddy had stolen over to the Smiling Pool, from among the rushes watched Jerry for a little while, and then stolen away again, taking the greatest care not to be seen.

"There isn't the least use in the world trying to get him now," said he, as he thought the matter over. "There won't be any use as long as he is at work on that new house. But when it is finished he'll have less to think about. I must see if I cannot find something to interest him."

Reddy grinned, and the grin was the kind of a grin which showed all his long teeth. He grinned just that same way each night as he trotted away from the Smiling Pool after watching Jerry work. At last came the time when Jerry stopped working because, you know, the house was finished. Reddy knew when Jerry stopped working. Oh, yes, Reddy knew all about it.

Then one evening Reddy visited the Smiling Pool quite openly. He sat right out on the bank in the moonlight, and you couldn't imagine anybody more pleasant than was Reddy. He had his most polite airs and his best grin.

"Good evening, neighbor Jerry," said he, and his voice was as pleasant as he knew how to make it.

Jerry stopped swimming long enough to look up at Reddy. Then, because he could hardly be less polite than Reddy, he squeaked: "Good

"Fond parents may think children are bright," says mature Matilda, "but even an electric light needs a switch."

© 1933, Bell Syndicate.—WNU Service.

NOT REALLY RAINING

By DOUGLAS MALLOCH

THE mists of morning always rise, Melt in the warmth of better skies. I never see the vapor drifting But in the moving it is lifting. Give breezes time, the sun a chance, And, as the hours of day advance, The mists of morning rise and scatter And prove a very little matter.

I wonder if we do not make On many mornings this mistake?— Mistake some little care for sorrow, Although it ends before the morrow; Make for ourselves a doleful list Of losses that are only mist That blows away, amid complaining, Because it isn't really raining.

I know we have our larger grief, But much that frets us is the brief, Upon life's surface floating bubbles, But mists that are not really troubles. Though many losses living brings, We sigh the most o'er little things. Let us be glad, somehow or other, Unless it's really raining, brother.

© 1933, Douglas Malloch.—WNU Service.

GRAPHIC GOLF

OVERCOMING HOOK AND SLICE

ONE reason for the popularity of deep faced clubs is their tendency to cure a slice. While most of the average golfers either slice or hook, the slice is far more prevalent. For this reason the ordinary golfer would undoubtedly find that the deeper faced clubs were more suitable to his particular case. Deep faced clubs have the power to counteract the slice and this fills a particular niche in most games that cannot be easily discounted. On the other hand those golfers who show a penchant for hooking might find it well to switch to shallow faced clubs. With these clubs the tendency to slice would overcome the hooking proclivity and a fairly straight ball would result. With these two facts in mind it should be a simple matter to find the club that best suits one's game. There's nothing like a straight ball off the tee to start the hole right.

© 1933, Bell Syndicate.—WNU Service.

well during the basting. Serve the meat surrounded by the vegetables and prepare a gravy from the liquor in the pan.

Molasses Pie.

It may be baked in individual tins or in the usual sized pie plates. Line a pit plate with flaky pastry and fill with the following mixture. Bring one cupful of molasses to the boiling point and add carefully a tablespoonful of butter rubbed to a paste with a tablespoonful of flour, cook in the molasses until slightly thickened, then remove from the fire and add the juice of a large lemon and a pinch of cinnamon. Walnut meats may be added to make it more tasty. Cover with a top crust and bake in a moderate oven.

Raisin Pie.

Line a pie plate with rich pastry. Pour boiling water over one and one-half cupfuls of seeded raisins, let stand until cool, drain and mix with three-fourths of a cupful of sugar, one-half teaspoonful of salt, and two tablespoonfuls of flour. Turn the mixture into a pie pan, piling it high in

Mother's Cook Book

SEASONABLE FOODS

A MOST delicious dinner may be prepared in a Scotch kettle. Place a piece of brisket or shoulder of beef in the kettle with plenty of fat to brown all over. Then add a little water, cover it lightly and cook at a low heat. An hour or more before the meat is to be served add carrots, onions and later a few potatoes; cook, basting them occasionally and season

DADA KNOWS—

"Pop, what is a note?" "What a business man avoids and an opera singer attains."

© 1933, Bell Syndicate.—WNU Service.

Pupils in This Class Must Keep Wide Awake

HERE is a class at Catalina Island, Calif., whose pupils cannot afford to show any indifference to their studies. If they fail in their work, they go into the drink with a big splash and that's all there's to it. When you hit the water a few times traveling at the speed of 40 miles per hour, you either make up your mind to stay on the skiddy board or quit school. This novel "aquaplane college" was organized by Roy Arnold, who is seen leading the class.

BONERS

Charles the second really found out about gravity, because when he was in the oak, an acorn fell on him. He told Newton, who got all the credit.

BONERS are actual humorous tid-bits found in examination papers, essays, etc., by teachers.

The earth is composed of one quart of land and three quarts of water.

A street is a road that has a very good class of people on it.

The Greenwich meridian is the largest telescope in Greenwich observatory.

Alfred the Great started a Chronicle and this still exists as a morning newspaper.

The Immortal William is a name applied to the German emperor.

Robert Louis Stevenson's father was an engineer so Robert became a well-known author. He traveled all through life after his health. He used to sit by a tree and pick up many poems and stories. He died in 1895. Later he married a very nice lady and lived happily after that.

The Pastoral age was when everybody kept their cows in the same pasture.

© 1933, Bell Syndicate.—WNU Service.

For Cool Fall Days

For the cool days of late fall, no better choice can be made than a wool frock trimmed with fur, such as is shown in the illustration.

the center, sprinkle with the juice of a lemon and grating of the rind, add one-half cupful of water in which the raisins were soaked and dot with two tablespoonfuls of butter cut into small pieces. Cover with pastry and bake forty minutes. Have the oven very hot the first ten minutes to bake the pastry, then reduce the heat. Serve hot or cold.

© 1933, Western Newspaper Union.

Poor Bedouin Sure of Meals Every poor Bedouin of the Egyptian deserts has a right to share the meals of his wealthy tribesmen.

HERE LAZINESS
IS A PASTIME

Loafer Can Find Paradise in Jamaica.

For action, New York's Times square and Kingston, Jamaica, make a perfect contrast. For songs like "Lazy Bones," Kingston is certainly the place for inspiration. Hustle is a foreign word to native Jamaicans and so far as they are concerned, it can stay foreign.

The first impression which registers on the visitor is the lack-a-day mood of the native Jamaican boys and men. They lounge around. No plush-cushioned seats, to be sure, but any spot is soft enough. And even through the countryside, "pickaninies," as Americans call them, never seem troubled by serious thoughts of work or anything else—but frolic.

For a taste, however, of a people living in another land, Jamaica adds variety to any cruise. It has its points of interest, fascination and romance. Even as the ship sails into the harbor, passing over submerged Port Royal, time flees back to the days of Pirate Henry Morgan, for Port Royal was the buccaneer's headquarters, where he planned his raids of rich Spanish Main ports. The natives tell you that on stormy days the bell in the church tower, sunken deep in the blue water, chimes.

Once Port Royal was Jamaica's capital, but an earthquake jarred it and the sea engulfed it. Today, it is just a reminder of pirate tales. The survivors moved the capital across the bay to Kingston, where Jamaican life has bloomed in its natural way, where women still parade through the streets with market baskets balanced on their heads, where small cafes smell strongly of native Jamaica rum and where those too lazy to work the rich banana plantations gather to enjoy a life of leisure, even though it may be without luxury.

While under Spanish rule for a half century, few signs of Iberian influence are in evidence. The island is distinctly British. When it was wrested from Spain, it seems, anything which the Spaniards could not take with them they destroyed so that no real Spanish building remains. Even Spanish is seldom heard.

A Bermudian influence seems to grip the island, for while throughout the West Indies the motor car is the common transportation for visitors, Jamaica clings to the horse-drawn carriage, although a car is available upon request. Gasoline draws a handsome price, and horses seem plentiful, however, offering an excuse for the carriage's survival.—New York World-Telegram.

New Way to Shoot

Rifle practice without noise, fumes or ammunition was demonstrated recently in London. By a system of lenses and mechanism within the gun, a luminous target was projected on a blank wall. Aim was taken and when the trigger was pressed a black spot appeared on the target.

Mercolized Wax

Keeps Skin Young

Absorb blemishes and discolorations using Mercolized Wax daily as directed. Invisible particles of aged skin are freed and all defects such as blackheads, tan, freckles and large pores disappear. Skin is then beautifully clear, velvety and so soft—face looks years younger. Mercolized Wax brings out your hidden beauty. At all leading druggists.

Powdered Saxolite—Reduces wrinkles and other age-signs. Simply dissolve one ounce Saxolite in face-pink which hasel and use daily as face lotion.

Constipation Drove Her Wild

made her feel cross, headache, half-sleep. Now she has a lovely disposition, new pep and vitality. Heed Nature's warning: Sluggish bowels invariably result in poisonous wastes ravaging your system—the direct cause of headaches, dizziness, colds, complexion troubles. NATURE'S REMEDY—the mild, all-vegetable laxative—softly stimulates the entire eliminative tract—strengthens, regulates the bowels for normal, natural functioning. Get a 25c box today at your druggist's.

"TUMS" Quick relief for acid indigestion, heartburn. Only 10c.

FOR BLOOD AND ENERGY

Mr. Harry Rhodes of 533 College Ave., Aurora, Ill., said: "A few years ago I was rundown and had no energy, but Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery built up my system and my blood. It toned up my entire body and I felt stronger and better in every way. It seemed to enrich my blood and it gave me a real appetite." All druggists.

Make Your Own "Beauty Preparations." Fifteen formulas for 25c. J. B. O'NEILL. Box 282 - West New York, N. J.

SORES AND LUMPS—My Specialty Write for Free 140 Page Book Dr. David Williams, Hudson, Wis.

THE BIRTHDAY DETECTIVE

By Jane Osborn

© 1933, McClure Newspaper Syndicate, WNU Service

MRS. KELLOGG had come into the outer office of Blain and Jones as stealthily as a fat woman could.

She opened the door just enough to permit her to stick her broad face within, looked about the room and made a hissing sound to attract the attention of the young woman at the switchboard who was also acting as reception clerk.

"Is Mr. Blain out?" she whispered. "Yes, he's just gone to luncheon," said the girl. "I'm sorry."

"I'm not, I'm glad," said rotund Mrs. Kellogg who had now come bravely into the office and seemed to be a little out of breath from her recent maneuvers.

"I'm his aunt and I want to talk privately—very privately—with his private secretary."

"I guess I'm as much his private secretary as any one is," said the girl.

"I'm Nancy Howe and I take all his dictation. Just now the telephone operator has gone to luncheon so I'm sitting out here. Could you talk to me here by the board?"

"Why, yes," said Mrs. Kellogg. "If you're quite sure that nephew of mine won't come in. If he's only just gone to luncheon then I'm pretty safe to stay here a little while. I might have telephoned it but I was afraid some one else in the office would overhear and besides I hate to talk with people I can't see. And this is a difficult matter."

"If I can do anything for you or Mr. Blain I'm sure I'd like to," said Nancy Howe.

She devoutly wished that the fussily dressed fat woman would come to the point of her story.

"Well, it's this way. I'm his aunt, Luella Kellogg. You may have heard him speak of me. No? That's funny."

"Mr. Blain has never spoken to me except of business matters."

"Hasn't," snapped the aunt. "Well, that's funny. I'd an idea young men rather took their private secretaries into their confidences and all that sort of thing."

"But never mind, as I was saying I'm his Aunt Luella and as you may have heard I have quite a little money which I intend to give to him some fine day. He's my only heir and I don't intend to wait until I'm dead to give him his share. But that's a little beside the point."

"What I wanted you to understand is that I take a tremendous interest in the boy. He may be almost thirty but he seems like a boy to me."

"His birthday is the fifteenth of March and tomorrow is the first. I want to give him a really nice present but I haven't an idea of what he'd like. I'm leaving that for you to discover. You'd better tell me by the tenth, so I'll have a few days to pick it out. I'd ask him only I want it to come as a surprise."

"But how can I find out?" asked Nancy, really troubled.

"I shouldn't think that would be difficult."

"If I was a pretty young stenographer I don't think it would be hard for me to find out what my employer would like for a birthday present."

"Just get to talking some time about hobbies and preferences and get him to tell you about the sort of books he likes, and whether he really wants books."

"Maybe he'd like a new car, or maybe there's some club he'd like to join but can't afford the initiation fee or perhaps he'd like a saddle horse. How am I to know?"

"If I began to pump him he'd be on his guard because he'd know why I was asking."

"I tell you, my dear, if you'll do this little piece of detective work I'll reward you well. There are surely little things a pretty girl like you would like and I'll give you $15 to spend on some little gee-gaw or other."

"But it will be very difficult," said Nancy Howe, really alarmed at the idea of having to accept the commission and yet somehow not liking to disappoint the genial and outspoken fat woman.

"You see, we're very business-like in this office. I would have no occasion to discuss books or hobbies with Mr. Blain. He thinks of me only as a more or less efficient machine."

"Bosh," said the good-natured aunt with an air of finality.

"Pretty girls like you are never looked upon as mere machines by their employers."

"Go along, do what I say, find out what the boy wants and let me know the next time I come in, and the $15 will be yours."

"I won't accept the money," insisted Nancy Howe.

"But if I possibly can I'll find out what Mr. Blain would like. It does seem a shame for you not to know. It would be so unfortunate to spend a lot of money on something he didn't like."

And so the matter was settled. The more Nancy Howe thought about it the more interested she became.

As she sat taking Mr. Blain's dictation she found herself wondering what sort of things he really liked to possess.

She liked to imagine herself something of a student of faces.

She was studying him intently.

Suddenly Mr. Blain looked up and for a second his eyes met hers.

It was apparently a trifle disconcerting to him to find his stenographer studying his face so closely when she was supposed merely to be taking his dictation.

At any rate he had to ask her to reread the entire letter before he could collect his thoughts sufficiently to continue.

"It's going to be pleasant over the week-end," commented Nancy Howe that afternoon as she was about to go home.

"I always like pleasant Saturdays and Sundays. I suppose you play golf."

"Golf, goodness no," quoth Mr. Blain.

"I'd rather saw wood. Golf would bore me to death."

"Most people who don't like golf, like horses and dogs," ventured Nancy Howe, surprised at her own bravery.

"Maybe they do," said Mr. Blain.

"Then I'm an exception."

"Everyone has to have some sort of hobby," Nancy continued.

"But when one has a good fast car I suppose that's enough."

"I haven't even a slow one," said Mr. Blain beginning to be amused at the pumping process.

"Then I suppose you'd like one that would go along about sixty miles an hour."

"No motor cars for me, Miss Howe," he said.

"I took enough chances when I was in the war."

The next day, Saturday, Nancy managed, in spite of a great deal of dictation for a half day, to engage Mr. Blain in conversation about books.

But from this she had no satisfaction.

Later she discussed clubs with no better luck.

Every day for a week she continued her pumping process, all carried on, as she thought, with the greatest tact possible.

The most disturbing thing about it was that Mr. Blain seemed to be laughing at her.

He seemed to be as eager to keep her from knowing his preferences as she was eager to discover them.

It was the ninth of March and the next day Mrs. Kellogg would come for her information.

Much to her surprise, Mr. Blain asked Nancy to have luncheon with him.

Nancy might have hesitated, because she had always felt that it was unwise for a girl to lunch with her employer.

Still she took this as a good opportunity to continue her probing.

"See here," said Tom after they had finished a rather light luncheon and were dallying over their hot coffee. "You want, for some reason or other, to find out what I want for a birthday present."

"I'll tell you the honest truth about the matter if you'll answer me a few questions."

"Goodness knows I have a right to ask questions after the way you've been putting me through the third degree lately."

"Now mind, answer me the truth and nothing but the truth."

"Which do you prefer, men with blue eyes or brown?"

"I think I prefer blue eyes," she said, trying not to look embarrassed.

"Would you be willing to marry a man with whom you had worked in business?"

"I don't think I'd object."

"Would you mind much being called Mrs. Thomas Blain?"

"Really, this is too much," said Nancy, very much confused.

"You promised to answer the truth," said Thomas.

"You really wouldn't, would you?"

"I don't suppose I would," stammered Nancy.

"Very good," said Thomas.

"Now you know what I want for a birthday present. Will you give it to me?"

And Nancy said she would.

Painters Make Use of Models of Royalties

For the picture of the king and queen leaving St. Paul's after its reopening in 1930, which Miss Lindsay Williams, the Welsh artist, painted, she used two models of their majesties, which are kept at Buckingham palace.

Although few know of their existence, says the London Telegraph, these models have been used frequently for recent royal portraits. Artists are thus enabled to study the details of dress at protracted sittings, which normally would be impossible.

The models have been most carefully built to reproduce exactly their majesties' measurements. According to the nature of the painting, they are draped in clothes new or old, and the queen herself is frequently consulted over the many knotty problems of court attire. Sometimes, too, she superintends the dressing.

Frozen Aquarium

In a frozen aquarium, believed by officials to be the only one of its kind, strange fish from many waters stare stonily at thousands of visitors at Seattle every year. The aquarium was not planned, it just grew, until it is becoming world famous. One day a fisherman brought in a strange fish and wanted to hang it up in the refrigeration rooms. Then another caught a different variety. So it grew until there is now a collection which has attracted as many as 1,500 visitors to the plant in a single day. They brave a temperature of 10 degrees below freezing to walk through the corridor lined with ice-encased rarities of the deep.

BEAUTY TALKS

By

MARJORIE DUNCAN

THE "OFF-DAYS"

SPASMODIC negligence is step-sister to chronic carelessness. Both are inexcusable in the matter of one's personal appearance. Both pay the same price. Groom yourself perfectly for 360 days in the year, and let the world see you careless the other 5. What happens? You are judged—or rather misjudged (if you want it that way) by your off-days. You look lovely most frequently—you are listless seldom—yet it is the "seldom" that everyone seems to notice.

Connie found that out. She confided to me the other day that she would never, never venture forth, even to the grocer's around the corner, without "fixing and fussing as though going to a dinner-dance." Connie ordinarily is quite careful about her appearance. Occasionally, however, she has an off-day. She reasons thus, "Oh, well, I don't have any special engagements—I don't expect to meet anyone today—and I'm just going out for a short time."

"So I slipped out of the house and on to the store and even the grocer's cart seemed to stare at me. I caught a fleeting reflection of myself in the mirror and it was none too flattering. Right then and there I had a premonition. On my way home I talked to myself, expressing over and over again the hope that I would not have the misfortune of meeting anyone. And then—curses—if I didn't walk straight into the one person in the whole world whom I wished least to see at that moment."

Connie must have wished as so many of us often do that a magic potion for making us invisible would be invented. However, that little incident changed Connie's regime to one of systematic precision. No more spasms of negligence. She is always a picture of perfect grooming.

Connie's sad little experience reminds me of a lovely lady I know who is really a brilliant housekeeper. On the one and only day that she failed to make the beds and straighten up (because she felt indisposed) the fates conspired against her. She had more unexpected visitors in an hour—that day—than she usually has in a week. It's the experience of every woman—seems to me.

Remember the wrinkle makers. Constant frowning, scowling, a despondent and morose disposition. Too sudden reduction without compensating skin care takes away the fatty underlining, but the skin that has been stretched to accommodate it falls into folds and wrinkles. Remember that worrying over the wrinkles will often make matters worse. And remember, too, that your youth did not die in a day, the wrinkles worked their way into face and neck—a little yesterday, a little the day before, over perhaps years without your knowing it. Don't expect them to leave in a day or a month. Be patient and you will be rewarded with youth regained.

FEMININITY SUPREME

WE ALL remember the post-war days. Feminine faces suddenly gone masculine. Softly curving figures taking on a mannish straightness. Feminine locks snipped shorter and shorter. Then the ridiculous extremes in eyebrows. First a heavy, unruly mass, then the pencil-like, expressionless arch. And make-up anything but the happy medium. Rouge applied too boldly and heavily or completely omitted. Lips shaped so unnaturally and rouged so highly that they smacked of boldness bordering on vulgarity. Too much—entirely too much of the extreme, the eccentric, the masculine. Femininity was locked in fashion's attic closet. The beauty-wise mourned her. To them she seemed too long lost.

Now fashion has released her once more. And our new-found femininity is lovelier than ever. No cobwebs have attached themselves to her. She has not suffered by the long absence. And we women—what a welcome we are giving her! Absence does make the heart grow fonder, doesn't it?

Look around you. On all sides you see ladies—lovely ladies. Gone are the flappers, the boyish bob, the bored air and ennui. Complexions are all aglow with a newer loveliness. A saner and healthier attitude is being taken on the subject of the figure. Extreme thinness is not stressed to the extent it was a year or two ago. Figures are taking on the rounded curves, the graceful, slender line that feminine figures should naturally wear. And bodies are going to be the healthier and lovelier for it. As for milady's hair, once more it comes into its own, once more it is truly "woman's crowning glory." The shingled boyish bob grows longer and longer until it reaches at least two inches, and sometimes four inches below the ears. The soft, flattering wavelets that were brushed back from the forehead and behind the ears and then chased under confining little hats are once more called forth. The one redeeming feature of the short cut, however, remains. I have reference to the thinning process. Hair grows longer, but not heavier. We discovered that the shape of most feminine heads is really beautiful. So the coiffure is still thinned to reveal the lovely contours of the head. Straight hair is taboo. It's feminine to have curly locks.

© Bell Syndicate.—WNU Service.

PASSED UP ALL FOR CLAM PIE

Delicacy That Made Hit With "Sea Devil."

Jot Small was telling me about the time Count von Luckner ("the Sea Devil") visited Commander McMillen, of Arctic fame, in Provincetown, Mass.

"Mac brought the count and some other guests over here to my Galley for supper one night," Jot related. "And I just locked the doors after they got in, so we wouldn't be disturbed by no other customers."

"Well, it was a Sat'day night, so of course the principal dish was baked beans. And after while, I got to noticing that Von Luckner didn't seem to care much for the beans. Oh, he was polite about it, all right, but he wasn't what you might call eager. He ate bread and he drank coffee, and he pushed the beans and the pork around on his plate and went through the motions. But beans wasn't his dish."

"So pretty soon I whispered to Mac, 'Do you think he'd like clam pie?'"

"'Try him and see what happens,' says Mac."

"So I cut a big wedge of clam pie and put it down by his plate. He looked at it, sort of uncertain, for a minute. Then he reached out his fork and cut off a little nibble. Then I seen his eyes kind of sparkle. He took a bigger bite. Then he took both hands and made a motion like a man swimmin', and pushed the beans one way and the coffee and bread the other, and pulled that pie right in front of him."

"By Chove," he hollered, 'I haf found somed'ing!'"

"He swallowed that wedge like a logfish stealin' bait, and he held out his plate for more. That happened three times, and then he'd eat the hull dam pie. And every time he'd finish a piece, he'd say, 'By Chove, I haf found somed'ing!'"

"He'll be droppin' his hook in these waters again, some day. Because he's goin' to have a heck of a time tryin' to teach 'em to make clam pie in Germany!" — Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Vast Pampa Source of Welfare in Argentina

Argentina, richest of South American countries, draws its wealth from the pampa—a rockless, treeless sea of grass, 2,800 miles long and 900 miles wide, grazed by millions of head of stock. Fecund, half-wild herds of horses and cattle, seed of the conquistadores' mounts and milk cows, have been scientifically bred up to the stable and the abattoir.

Calmer herds, tamer men. Almost gone is the gaucho, cowboy son of Spanish settler and Indian squaw. Apotheosis of the type was Dictator Juan Manuel Rosas, who a century ago routed the Indians, united his countrymen, and ruled in a palace, with a court jester. On the pampas only the pampero (cold wind, rain or hail storms) and locust plagues remain fiercely primitive.

Buenos Aires, with its 2,000,000, is Paris, Chicago and pampa in one. Quite effete now, it no longer flaunts in its Boca section advertisements of cheap, expeditious murder by expert assassins. For safety, and comfort, wheeled traffic is barred from the city's shopping district between 4 and 8 p.m.—World's Work.

TRY THIS!
When children won't eat—and won't gain weight—

The youngster who has no appetite, probably has stasis. A little syrup of figs will soon correct this condition—then watch the child eat—and gain!

Mothers should never coax a child to eat. Nature knows best. Remove the cause of a youngster's poor appetite—get rid of stasis. Children who don't eat are sluggish. Read what the "California treatment" is doing for sluggish, listless children in every part of the country!

A POUND A WEEK. Your child will eat well from the day and hour you conquer sluggishness. But that girl or boy with furry tongue and a bad breath should not be dosed with salts!

Begin tonight, with enough pure syrup of figs to cleanse the colon thoroughly. Less tomorrow, then every other day, or twice a week, until the appetite, digestion, weight, complexion, tell you the stasis is gone. When a cold or other ailment has again clogged the system, syrup of figs will soon set things to right.

When appetite fails, tongue is coated white, eyes are a bilious yellow, California syrup of figs will gently stimulate the colon muscles—and the child you used to coax to eat will fairly devour his food.

The claims made for California Syrup of Figs are true and it will do the same for you—if you get genuine CALIFORNIA Syrup of Figs. Don't accept any substitute.

MEMBER N. R. A.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

(By REV. P. B. FITZWATER, D. D., Member of Faculty, Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.)
© 1933, Western Newspaper Union.

Lesson for November 5

PAUL IN JERUSALEM

LESSON TEXT—Acts 15:1, 2, 22-31.
GOLDEN TEXT—Now the Lord is that Spirit; and where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is liberty. II Cor. 3:17.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Settling a Dispute.

JUNIOR TOPIC—The Only Way.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Looking to the Church for Guidance.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Heeding the Voice of the Church.

I. The Controversy in the Church at Antioch (vv. 1-5).

The occasion of the controversy was the return of Paul and Barnabas from their first missionary journey. Upon their return they gathered the church together and "rehearsed all that God had done with them, and how he had opened the door of faith unto the Gentiles." The difficulty was a most serious one, for it threatened the disruption of the church into a Jewish and Gentile division. The point at issue was not the admission of the Gentiles into the church. That had been settled some years before when Peter received Cornelius and his household. The question now was: On what ground could they be received? Should Gentile converts be required to keep the Mosaic law as a condition of salvation? That which brought this issue into prominence was the coming of certain men from Jerusalem who declared, "Except ye be circumcised after the manner of Moses, ye cannot be saved" (v. 1). The problem was so difficult that Paul and Barnabas were unable to put these men to silence. The brethren at Antioch decided to refer the matter to the mother church at Jerusalem. Accordingly, Paul, Barnabas, and others were sent as a deputation to Jerusalem. On the way they passed through Phenice and Samaria, declaring the news of the conversion of the Gentiles.

II. The Deliberations of the Council (vv. 6-21).

1. Peter's address (vv. 6-11). He argued that God had borne witness of his acceptance of the Gentiles by giving his Holy Spirit unto them as unto the Jews (Acts 10:34-47). Since, therefore, God had not put a difference, it would be folly for them to do so.

2. Paul and Barnabas rehearse their experience (v. 12). They told how that God had set his seal of approval on their preaching of salvation by grace through faith apart from works.

3. The argument of James (vv. 13-21). He showed how the truth declared by Peter harmonized with the prophecy of Amos (Amos 9:11-15). He made it clear that the reception of the Gentiles was not in conflict with God's plan, but in strict harmony therewith. God's plan, as set forth in James' speech, is as follows:

a. God would visit the Gentiles to take out from among them a people for his name (v. 14). This is what is now going on—the worldwide preaching of the gospel and the calling out of the church.

b. After the completion and removal of the church from the world, Israel as a nation will be converted and restored to their land with all its privileges by the Lord himself upon his return (vv. 16, 17a). The building again of the tabernacle of David means the restoration of the Davidic throne.

Gabriel, in announcing to Mary, the birth of Jesus, said, "The Lord God shall give unto him the throne of his father David" (Luke 1:32).

c. This will be followed by the conversion of the world through the agency of converted Israel (v. 17b, cf. Rom. 11:15). He showed that there is no conflict when the Scriptures are rightly divided.

d. James' proposition (vv. 19-21). His judgment was that the Gentiles should not be troubled with the things which were Jewish, but should be warned against the perils of heathenism, such as meat offered to idols, fornication, from things strangled, and from blood.

III. The Decision of the Council (vv. 22-29).

The mother church accepted the resolution offered by James and came to a unanimous agreement. They not only sent a letter stating the decision of the conference, but took the wise precaution to send influential men along with Paul and Barnabas to bear the same testimony by word of mouth. This letter denied the authority of the Judaizing teachers (v. 24), and declared the method by which this decision had been reached (vv. 25-27). They wisely put the Holy Spirit first.

IV. The Decision Delivered to the Church (vv. 30-35).

The church at Antioch was called together to hear this report. Its reading brought great rejoicing.

The Abiding Presence

The promise of Christ that he would remain with his own, even to the end of the world, though given primarily to his apostles, was not for them alone, but for all who should believe in him through their teaching and that of their successors.

Meditation of Christ

Let it be today. Shut yourself in. sit down to think, and to meditate, and to read that which will assist your thoughts about him, and your meditations on him.

Quality All-Important in Selection of Soap

By RUBY BAKER

The weekly wash is a good example of where "pinching on quality" is costly in the end. Women whose snowy-white washings are the envy of their neighborhood have learned the value of buying not cheaply but well.

When these women purchase a laundry soap they look for quality and washing value. They know that a perfect wash depends on the use of a high-grade soap. After all, it's the ability of the cleansing agents that gets results.

Many a housewife has found that a cheap or "weak" soap not only requires harder rubbing to get clothes clean, but that this hard rubbing actually harms the fabrics.

Where you buy quality, it makes little difference in what form a soap comes. A soap can be any color of the rainbow—without any effect at all on the whiteness of clothes. For instance, a certain well-known laundry soap is golden because that is the natural color of its combined fine ingredients. And due to its greater cleansing energy, this golden soap gets clothes cleaner—which means whiter.

Dr. Pierce's Pellets are best for liver, bowels and stomach. One little Pellet for a laxative—three for a cathartic.—Adv.

What Worried Her

Mrs. Asker—Do you have any trouble with your furnace?

Mrs. Teller—My main trouble is getting my husband to attend to it.

Why Doctors Favor a Liquid Laxative

A doctor will tell you that the careless choice of laxatives is a common cause of chronic constipation.

Any hospital offers evidence of the harm done by harsh laxatives that drain the system, weaken the bowel muscles, and even affect the liver and kidneys.

Fortunately, the public is fast returning to laxatives in liquid form. The dose of a liquid laxative can be measured. The action can thus be controlled. It forms no habit; you needn't take a "double dose" a day or two later.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin has the average person's bowels regular as clockwork in a few weeks' time. Why not try it? Some pill or tablet may be more convenient to carry. But there is little "convenience" in any cathartic which is taken so frequently, you must carry it with you, wherever you go!

Its very taste tells you Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is wholesome. A delightful taste, and delightful action. Safe for expectant mothers, and children. All druggists, ready for use, in big bottles. Member N. R. A.

Resinol Helped My Skin in 3 Days

"When I decided to try Resinol Soap and Ointment, my complexion was a sight from pimples and blackheads. I had a horrid, muddy looking skin and when I used powder it looked even worse. After three days use of the Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap, I could see an improvement. Now all my friends tell me how well my skin looks." (Signed)—Mrs. M. N. *
*Name on Request. St. Louis, Mo.

At all druggists!
FOR FREE TRIAL size package of Ointment and Soap with your copy of our new booklet on Skin Treatment, write to Resinol, Department W-1, Baltimore, Md.

LEGAL NOTICES

Master's Sale

State of Illinois,) ss.
In the Circuit Court of Will County, September Term A. D. 1933.
Hansen & Petersen Company, a Corporation, Complainant,
vs.
Joanna R. Feely, et al.

In Chancery, No. 39857
Public notice is hereby given, that, in pursuance of a decree of said Court, entered in the above entitled cause on the 3rd day of October A. D. 1933, the undersigned Master in Chancery will, on Tuesday the 14th day of November A. D. 1933, commencing at ten o'clock in the forenoon, inside the north main entrance on the second floor of the Court House, in said County of Will, sell to the highest and best bidder or bidders the following described real estate, or so much thereof as may be sufficient to satisfy this decree, to-wit:

Lots seventy-seven, seventy-eight, seventy-nine, eighty, eighty-one, and eighty-two, in Westacres, a Subdivision of the South six hundred ninety-four feet of the Southeast quarter of the Northwest quarter of Section eight, in Township thirty-five North, Range ten East of the third principal meridian, in Joliet, in the County of Will, in the State of Illinois.

Terms of sale: For cash in hand.
Dated at Joliet, Illinois, this 24th day of October, A. D. 1933.

JOHN J. WELLNITZ,
Master in Chancery of Will County, Illinois.
John B. Anderson,
Complainant's Solicitor.

9-27 10-3-10

Master's Sale

State of Illinois,) ss.
Will County,) ss.

In the Circuit Court of Will County, September Term A. D. 1933.
William A. Murphy, as Trustee, etc., et al, Complainants
vs.
Emma H. Harms, et al., Defendants.

In Chancery, No. 40216
Public notice is hereby given, that, in pursuance of a decree of said Court, entered in the above entitled cause on the 26th day of September A. D. 1933, the undersigned Master in Chancery will, on Friday the 17th day of November, A. D. 1933 commencing at ten o'clock in the forenoon, inside the north main entrance on the second floor of the Court House, in said County of Will, sell to the highest and best bidder or bidders the following described real estate, or so much thereof as may be sufficient to satisfy this decree, to-wit:

The East half of Lot six (6) and the West twenty (20) feet of the South seventy-five (75) feet of Lot seven (7), in Block nine (9), in the Village of Plainfield, in Will County, Illinois, together with all of the tenements, hereditaments and appurtenances thereto belonging or in any wise appertaining.

Terms of sale: For cash in hand.
Dated at Joliet, Illinois, this 25th day of October, A. D. 1933.

JOHN J. WELLNITZ,
Master in Chancery of Will County, Illinois.
John B. Anderson,
Complainant's Solicitor.

9-27: 10-3-10-33

Master's Sale

State of Illinois,) ss.
Will County,) ss.
In the Circuit Court of Will County, September Term A. D. 1933.
William A. Murphy, as Trustee, etc., et al Complainants,
vs.
Andrew Tulipan, Defendant.

In Chancery, No. 40214.
Public notice is hereby given, that, in pursuance of a decree of said Court, entered in the above entitled cause on the 26th day of September A. D. 1933, the undersigned Master in Chancery will, on Friday the 17th day of November, A. D. 1933, commencing at ten o'clock in the forenoon, inside the north main entrance on the second floor of the Court House, in said County of Will, sell to the highest and best bidder or bidders the following described real estate, or so much thereof as may be sufficient to satisfy this decree, to-wit:

The East thirty (30) feet of Lot thirteen (13) in the West ten (10) feet of lot fourteen (14), in Block two (2), in Durham and English's Addition to Joliet, in the City of Joliet, Will County, Illinois, together with all of the tenements, hereditaments and appurtenances thereto belonging or in anywise appertaining.

Terms of sale: For cash in hand.
Dated at Joliet, Illinois, this 25th day of October, A. D. 1933.

JOHN J. WELLNITZ,
Master in Chancery of Will County, Illinois.
John B. Anderson,
Complainant's Solicitor.

9-27: 10-3-10-33

DANCE

Sat. Nov. 18th

Music by G. W. Seibert seven piece orchestra

ADMISSION: GENTS 35c; LADIES FREE

— AT —

Monee Auditorium

Master's Sale

State of Illinois,) ss.
Will County,) ss.
In the Circuit Court of Will County, September Term A. D. 1933.
The Union Central Life Insurance Company, Complainant,
vs.

Annie McGowan, Annie McGowan, executrix of the last will of William McGowan, deceased, Edward F. McGowan, C. O. Henry, Trustee, The First National Bank of Manhattan, Illinois, a corporation, Abraham L. Schiffe, administrator of the estate of William Kuhn, deceased, and Charles E. Davis, Defendants.

In Chancery, No. 39643.
Public notice is hereby given, that, in pursuance of a decree of said Court, entered in the above entitled cause on the 6th day of October A. D. 1933, the undersigned Master in Chancery will, on Saturday the 18th day of November A. D. 1933, commencing at ten o'clock in the forenoon, at the north door of the Court House, at Joliet, in said County of Will, sell to the highest and best bidder or bidders the following described real estate, or so much thereof as may be sufficient to satisfy this decree, to-wit:

The Northwest Quarter of Section One (1), Township Thirty-three (33) North, Range Eleven (11) East, except the right of way of the railroad, containing 151 acres more or less, in Will County, Illinois.

Terms of sale: For cash in hand.
Dated at Joliet, Illinois, this 25th day of October, A. D. 1933.

JOHN J. WELLNITZ,
Master in Chancery of Will County, Illinois.

A. L. & C. M. Granger, Kankakee, Illinois,
Complainant's Solicitors.

9-27: 10-3-10-33

Master's Sale

State of Illinois,) ss.
Will County,) ss.
In the Circuit Court of Will County, September Term A. D. 1933.

Florence B. Paulson, et al., Complainants
vs.
Raymond A. Johnson, et al., Defendants.

In Chancery No. 40169
Public notice is hereby given, that, in pursuance of a decree of said Court, entered in the above entitled cause on the 24th day of October A. D. 1933, the undersigned Master in Chancery will, on Friday the 24th day of November, A. D. 1933 commencing at ten o'clock in the forenoon within the north main entrance of the Court House in the City of Joliet, in said County of Will, sell to the highest and best bidder or bidders the following described real estate, or so much thereof as may be sufficient to satisfy this decree, to-wit:

The Easterly Ninety (90) feet of Lot Five (5) and Eight (8) in Block Six (6) in the original Town (now City) of Lockport, situated in the County of Will, State of Illinois.

Terms of sale: For cash in hand.
Dated at Joliet, Illinois, this 31st day of October, A. D. 1933.

JOHN J. WELLNITZ,
Master in Chancery of Will County, Illinois.
W. W. North,
Complainant's Solicitor.

11-3,10,17

Master's Sale

State of Illinois,) ss.
Will County,) ss.

In the Circuit Court of Will County, September Term, A. D. 1933.
Peoples Loan and Homestead Association of Joliet, Illinois, Complainant
vs.

Earl Nance, et al., Defendants.

In Chancery, No. 40223.
Public notice is hereby given, that, in pursuance of a decree of said Court, entered in the above entitled cause on the 19th day of October A. D. 1933, the undersigned Master in Chancery will, on Wednesday the 22nd day of November, A. D. 1933, commencing at ten o'clock in the forenoon, inside the north main entrance of the Court House, in the City of Joliet, in said Will County, Illinois, sell to the highest and best bidder or bidders the following described real estate, or so much thereof as may be sufficient to satisfy this decree, to-wit:

Lot nine (9), in Colburn's Subdivision of a part of Block forty-two (42), in the Canal Trustees' Subdivision of the West Half of Section fifteen (15), in Township thirty-five (35) North, and of Range ten (10) East of the Third Principal Meridian, in Will County, Illinois, together with all the improvements thereon or that may hereafter be placed thereon, including all heating, gas, electric and plumbing apparatus and fixtures, and everything appurtenant thereto.

Terms of sale: For cash in hand.
Dated at Joliet, Illinois, this 31st day of October A. D. 1933.

JOHN J. WELLNITZ,
Master in Chancery of Will County, Illinois.
Martin and Martin,
Complainant's Solicitors.

11-3,10,17

R. H. Carmichael

TINLEY PARK, ILLINOIS

Physician and Surgeon

Office Hours:

7 to 8 p. m. Morning by Appointment

Sundays by Appointment

Hours 8 to 10 a. m. 7 to 9 p. m.

Telephone Tinley Park 73

Trade Where You Save

FRIDAY AND SATURDAY ONLY

PET MILK, 3 large cans 19c
PURE GRANULATED SUGAR, 10lb 49c
OCCIDENT FLOUR, None better, 24 pounds $1.09
RICHELIEU PUMPKIN, No. 2 1/2 can, none better 2 for 29c
LATE HOWLE CRANBERRIES, 2lb for 25c
RICHELIEU OVEN BAKED BEANS, 28 oz. can, 2 for 33c
BABY STUART SWEET POTATOES, Vac. pack, 1lb & 2oz. can, 2 for 29c
RICHELIEU PREPARED SPAGHETTI, No. 2 can 2 for 23c
RICHELIEU LITTLE KERNEL CORN No. 2 can, 2 for 26c
PORK LOIN ROAST, Premium, 1/2 or whole 19c
PICNIC HAMS, 6lb average 11c
BEEF POT ROAST, from young native steer 15c
ROUND STEAK, from young native steer 25c

J. F. Schmadeke, Orland Park, Ill.

ORLAND PARK NEWS

The Orland Park Royal Neighbors are busy working on a poultry card and bunco party to be given Nov. 16. The young folks of the Orland M. E. church held a very fine Halloween party Monday night, about 75 guests enjoying the affair. The group met in the church parlors and then marched around the village and stopped at a number of homes where delicious eats awaited them. After the march, the party was continued in the parlors of the church. Everyone enjoyed a wonderful time.

Prizes were awarded. Mrs. A. R. Wakeland, wife of the pastor of the Marley church, carrying off first honors with a Charlie Chaplin outfit and Rev. Mr. Wakeland took second prize.

Sunday night while driving on the Southwest Highway east of Palos, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Vogt figured in an auto accident. A heavy fog and a dense cloud of pea smoke made it impossible for anyone to see five feet ahead of a car. While driving in this fog Mr. Vogt collided with another car. Mrs. Vogt was thrown against the wind shield and suffered cuts about the face. Nineteen accidents were reported on the Southwest Highway Sunday night.

The village board will have a vacation until the second Monday in November.

Mrs. Ella Loebe attended a meeting of the Midlothian Woman's Club the past week.

The Ladies Guild of the Orland Park M. E. church held an all day meeting in the Creech hall last Thursday. The next meeting of the Guild will be held Thursday, Nov. 23.

Winslow Mahaffay has gone to Michigan where he will spend the winter with his daughter, Mrs. Clark. The Orland Park PTA will meet on the evening of Thursday, Nov. 9th at the school auditorium. The husbands of the officers will be in charge of the program and will also serve the refreshments. All the members and parents are urged to attend.

The Orland Park R. N. A., sponsored a Halloween party at the Legion Hall last week. This was a costume affair, and games in keeping with the season were played. Twenty-two guests were present. Refreshments were served consisting of individual pumpkin pies, doughnuts, cider, etc. Mrs. Earl Reich, Mrs. Harry Heiting, and Mrs. Robert Doakes were on the entertainment committee. All enjoyed a fine time.

Seventeen members of the Orland Park Woman's Club attended the meeting of the Chicago Lawn Woman's Club at Chicago Lawn last Wednesday. This was the Third District meeting and about 800 women attended. There were a number of interesting speakers on the program.

Roy Loebe, Clarence Beagle and Tom Cooper attended a dealers banquet sponsored by the Westinghouse Electric Company in Chicago last Friday.

A large number of Marley and Worth young folks attended the M. E. young folks Halloween party Monday night.

Master's Sale

State of Illinois,) ss.
Will County,) ss.

In the Circuit Court of Will County, September Term, A. D. 1933.
Peoples Loan and Homestead Association of Joliet, Illinois, Complainant
vs.

Henry Couch, et al., Defendants.

In Chancery, No. 40204.
Public notice is hereby given, that, in pursuance of a decree of said Court, entered in the above entitled cause on the 19th day of October, A. D. 1933, the undersigned Master in Chancery will, on Wednesday the 22nd day of November, A. D. 1933, commencing at ten o'clock in the forenoon, inside the north main door of the Court House, in the City of Joliet, in said Will County, Illinois, sell to the highest and best bidder or bidders the following described real estate or so much thereof as may be sufficient to satisfy this decree, to-wit:

TRACT ONE: The South fifty (50) feet of Lot eight (8), in Block forty-eight and one-half (48 1/2), of School Section Addition to Joliet, in the City of Joliet, Will County, Illinois; and TRACT TWO: Lot three (3), in Henry Strickland's Subdivision of the South Half of Block thirty-six (36), in the Canal Trustees' Subdivision of the West Half of Section nine (9), in Township thirty-five (35) North, and of Range Ten (10) East of the Third Principal Meridian, in Will County, Illinois.

Terms of sale: For cash in hand.
Dated at Joliet, Illinois, this 31st day of October, A. D. 1933.

JOHN J. WELLNITZ,
Master in Chancery of Will County, Illinois.

Martin and Martin,
Complainant's Solicitors.

11-3,10,17

FRANKFORT

The Ladies Aid Society of the Frankfort M. E. church met in the Manse, Thursday afternoon, with Mrs. C. F. Schellhase as hostess.

The Men's Endeavor Club of the Frankfort M. E. church will sponsor a Father and Son banquet in the church parlors November 6 at 7 p. m. An interesting program is being prepared.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Mitchell and family moved to Waukegan Thursday where Mr. Mitchell is employed.

August Rahm of Minnesota arrived in Frankfort Friday morning to attend the funeral services of his brother Charles.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Krusemark of Tarboro, N. C. are visiting here with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Krusemark and also with his brother, Attorney Krusemark and family.

About fifty guests were entertained in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Geuther, Jr., Saturday evening, Oct. 28, in honor of the latter's parents' Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Reiter of Lockport and their 30th wedding anniversary. Cards, ping-pong and dancing were the evening's diversion. The home was beautifully decorated in Halloween effect. A lovely luncheon was served. Among those present was the mother of Mrs. Reiter, Mrs. M. C. Legg of Wickenburg, Arizona. Guests were present from Lockport, Romeo, Minooka, Joliet and Frankfort.

Bank Report

(OFFICIAL PUBLICATION)

Report of the condition of BREMEN STATE BANK
located at Tinley Park, State of Illinois, at the close of business on the 29th day of September, 1933, as made to the Auditor of Public Accounts of the State of Illinois, pursuant to law.

RESOURCES
Cash, Other Cash Resources and Due from Banks 65,909.75
U. S. Gov. Investments none
Other Bonds and Securities 76,704.00
Loans on Collateral Security 8,640.00
Other Loans 32,308.00
Loans on Real Estate 20,419.73
Overdrafts none
Other Real Estate none
Banking House, Furniture and Fixtures 10,500.00
Customer's Liability under Letters of Credit none
Customer's Liability account of Acceptance none
Other Resources none

Total Resources $214,481.45
LIABILITIES
Capital Stock 75,000.00
Surplus 7,500.00
Undivided Profits (Net) 4,397.64
Reserve Accounts none
Demand Deposits 48,732.95
Time Deposits 78,850.86
Due to Banks none
Bills Payable none
Re-discounts none
Dividends Unpaid none
Letters of Credit none
Bank Acceptances none
Other Liabilities none

Total Liabilities $214,481.45

I, J. C. Andres, Cashier of the Bremen State Bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief, and that the items and amounts shown above correspond with the items and amounts shown in the report made to the Auditor of Public Accounts, State of Illinois pursuant to law.

J. C. Andres, Cashier
State of Illinois, County of Cook, ss.
Subscribed and sworn to before me this 24th day of October, 1933.

Elizabeth Hardinger,
Notary Public

Telephone 54-M

Edw. Schmadeke

Auctioneer

ORLAND, ILLINOIS

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE IN

THIS PAPER. TRY IT!

OFF COMES FAT

Hips--Bust--Chin

GET THAT KRUSCHEN

FEELING

Gain Physical Attractiveness--Be Free From Constipation, Gas, Acidity and Liver Troubles.

Here's the recipe that banishes fat and brings into blossom all the natural attractiveness that every woman possesses.

Every morning take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water before breakfast--cut down on pastry and fatty meats--go light on potatoes, butter, cream and sugar--in 4 weeks get on the scales and note how many pounds of fat have vanished.

Notice also that you have gained in energy--your skin is clearer--your eyes sparkle with glorious health--you feel younger in body--keener in mind. Kruschen will give any fat person a joyous surprise.

Get a jar of Kruschen Salts--the cost is trifling and it lasts 4 weeks. If even this first jar doesn't convince you this is the safest, surest and surest way to lose fat--if you don't feel a superb improvement in health--so gloriously energetic--vigorously alive--your money returned.

But be sure for your health's sake that you ask for and get Kruschen Salts. Get them at any drugstore in the world.

16 1/2 Pounds of Fat Gone
The last 14 1/2 lbs. of fat and second bottle of Kruschen. Sure feeling fine! Mrs. J. E. Bursch, 1614 N. 1st St., Fort Wayne, Ind.

fort. In departing, the guests extended the honored couple wishes for many more anniversaries.

The Young People's League of the St. Peter Evangelical church gave a Halloween party in the basement of the church Friday night. Ezra Marti's class entertained. The committee was composed of Henry Kampe, Louis Ebert, Ear. Schroeder, Wilbur Kleir, Raymond Bettenhausen, Everett Buch, Glenn Schroeder, Clarence Heisner, Robert Klepper, Wm. Breidert, Floyd Bettenhausen, Chester Ebert, Wilbur Topp, Max Haass, Walter Schoen, Russell Kohlhaugen, Darrell Haass, Le Roy Krohn and Scherrol Rahm.

The Martha Sewing Circle met Thursday at the St. Peter's Evangelical basement.

Mrs. Robert Stephens attended the birthday anniversary of her sister, Mrs. August Osmus in New Lenox on Wednesday afternoon. A covered dish supper was served at 5 o'clock. The guests included the four sisters of Mrs. Osmus, Mrs. Sidney Batson of Joliet, Mrs. Robert Stephens of Frankfort, Mrs. Louise Scherpe and Mrs. Anna Bethel of New Lenox.

First Steps Made

To Bring Benefits
Of Corn Plan

Will County farmers will not have long to wait before they start reaping the benefits of the government's recently announced corn and hog program, for steps already are being taken to put it into effect in Illinois.

This is the word Farm Advisor Leonard W. Braham has just received from the extension service of the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois, which, as in the case of the wheat plan, will be in charge of the preliminary field work in education and organization in this state.

Maximum benefits of $350,000,000 are involved in the plan and all Illinois Counties, being located in the second largest corn and hog producing state in the nation, have a sizeable stake in the program. It was pointed out. Funds for financing the adjustment will come from a processing tax which Secretary Wallace will levy on corn and hogs at the beginning of the marketing year in November.

Any farmer, regardless of whether or not he belongs to a farm organization, is eligible to receive the benefit payments, provided he is willing to cut his 1934 corn acreage at least 20 per cent below his average acreage for the past three years and to cut the number of pigs farrowed and hogs marketed by 25 per cent under his average for the past 2 years. For every acre that the co-operating farmer takes out of corn production, he is paid a rental. That rental will be at the rate of 30 cents a bushel on the average yield of corn on the contracted land during the past three years. For instance, if the land taken out of production has averaged 40 bushels of corn an acre, the farmer will be paid $12 an acre. Two-thirds of the rental payments will be paid as soon after acceptance as possible. The other third will be paid after August 1, 1934.

Benefits for the hog adjustments will be at the rate of $5 a head on three-fourths the average number of pigs farrowed on the farm during the past two years. For instance, if a farmer raised an average of 80 pigs, he would get $5 a head on 60 pigs, or a total of $300. The first payment of $2 a head will be made as soon as possible after the contract to reduce is accepted. One dollar a head will be paid September 1, 1934, and $2 a head will be paid about February 1, 1935.

The number of acres of corn land that each farmer may rent to the government will be figured out on a national scale. The amount of corn acreage to be taken out of production will be figured up for the United States as a whole. The national acreage will be divided among the various states, and the state acreage among counties and the county acreage among individual farmers on the basis of the three-year average production. The amount of each farmer's reduction, in other words, the number of acres on which he will get benefit payments, will be his proportionate share of the national figure.

In figuring up the number of hogs on which adjustment payments will be made, the government will take 75 per cent of the average number of sows to farrow, litters farrowed and number of hogs marketed in the United States during the past 2 years. Each state, county and individual farmer gets his proportionate share of that number.

As in the case of wheat the corn-hog program in the various states will be handled largely by county corn-hog production control associations. These associations will be made up of corn and hog farmers who sign adjustment contracts. They will choose their own directors and officers. Each member of an association will bear his proportionate share of any salaries or expenses authorized by the association.

The best time to buy needed printing is NOW

Advertise
Your Business

WHEAT PRODUCTION AND ACREAGE STATEMENTS OF MEMBERS OF THE WHEAT PRODUCTION CONTROL ASSOCIATION OF WILL COUNTY, STATE OF ILLINOIS

The following is a statement of the production and planted acreages of wheat in the years 1930-32 and planted acreage for 1933 of producers of Will County who have submitted applications for farm allotments. This publication is made in compliance with the regulations of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration. It is made so that a check may be made on all statement claims, and so that reports may be made to the county Wheat Production Control Association on any inaccuracies which may appear in the statements.

The allotment for this county has been definitely calculated from official records of the United States Department of Agriculture and is 179,636 bushels. This is the total allotment for the county. Therefore, if any farmer receives a greater allotment than his past production warrants, he is thus depriving other farmers in this county of their just share.

Total production figures of those who apply for contracts, together with those who do not, must be consistent with the official county production as shown by the records of the United States Department of Agriculture. If the county totals are greater than the official totals, it will be necessary to make a downward adjustment.

Any person may make a confidential report if he finds any statement here which he believes to be inaccurate. Such reports should be made to the community or county Allotment Committee not later than 4 o'clock on the afternoon of Friday, Oct. 27th, either in writing or verbally. The reports will be strictly confidential. A farmer whose statements are said to be inaccurate will need to prove his production figures.

Farmers have been asked to furnish evidence of production and evidence of sale, such as thresherman's certificates, elevator certificates, or other records and receipts. Satisfactory evidence will be required of any farmer whose statement is questioned.

The following statements have been condensed to save space. "A" represents acres planted and "bu." represents bushels harvested. The "3-year average" represents the 3-year average acreage and production of 1930-32. Farmers should refer any questions regarding this publication to their Community Committee or the County Allotment Committee.

(Signed) MUNGO J. PATTERSON, Chairman, County Allotment Committee; Geo. Beckwith, Fred Lauterbach.

Name of Applicant	Section	Total acres on farm	1930 Wheat	1931 Wheat	1932 Wheat	3-year Average 1930-32	1933 Wheat
Francis John E. Gougar	8	315	50	745	36	975 76	1672
Handorf John	10	160	7	195	2	100 16	250
Johnson August	34	230	65	1977	26	350 75	1450
Kestel Joseph	31	160	34	992	30	840 31	330
Kestel Peter and Mike	38	278	48	1481	28	848 40	1150
McLaughlin John L.	33	355	42	1022	0	988 37	851
Nelson Chas. A.	29	180	20	426	0	0 50	1354
Nelson Robert	29	160	27	455	9	175 27	380
Reiter Raymond	21	40	10	225	0	0 6	70
Schneider Clara	33	240	28	754	22	850 30	715
	30	164	4	119	19	422 17	438

NEW LENOX TOWNSHIP

Community Committee Ray M. Smith, Chairman, Henry Schroeder, Joseph Kestel.

Name of Applicant	Section	Total acres on farm	1930 Wheat	1931 Wheat	1932 Wheat	3-year Average 1930-32	1933 Wheat
Francis John E. Gougar	8	315	50	745	36	975 76	1672
Handorf John	10	160	7	195	2	100 16	250
Johnson August	34	230	65	1977	26	350 75	1450
Kestel Joseph	31	160	34	992	30	840 31	330
Kestel Peter and Mike	38	278	48	1481	28	848 40	1150
McLaughlin John L.	33	355	42	1022	0	988 37	851
Nelson Chas. A.	29	180	20	426	0	0 50	1354
Nelson Robert	29	160	27	455	9	175 27	380
Reiter Raymond	21	40	10	225	0	0 6	70
Schneider Clara	33	240	28	754	22	850 30	715
	30	164	4	119	19	422 17	438

FRANKFORT TOWNSHIP

Community Committee, Fred Lauterbach, Chairman, John Cryder, Hal B. Reed.

Name of Applicant	Section	Total acres on farm	1930 Wheat	1931 Wheat	1932 Wheat	3-year Average 1930-32	1933 Wheat
Gilchrist John F.	15	360	81	1876	40	1108 16	350
Kohl Lawrence	5	160	7	195	2	100 16	250
Marti Ervin K.	6	108	9	144	12	240 9	100

NOTICE OF FARM ALLOTMENTS AND OF MAXIMUM ACREAGES OF WHEAT FOR 1934 UNDER CONTRACTS FOR MEMBERS OF THE WHEAT PRODUCTION CONTROL ASSOCIATION OF WILL COUNTY, STATE OF ILLINOIS.

Listed below are statements of the allotments which have been determined for members of the Will County Wheat Production Control Association from New Lenox and Frankfort Townships. These allotments are to hold for the duration of the present wheat contracts, and they are the basis upon which adjustment payments are to be made. They have been determined by the County Allotment Committee after careful consideration of the application statements. Every effort has been made to have these allotments as accurate as possible. The maximum acreage which may be sown to wheat for the 1934 crop on each farm, under the reduction requirements of the contract, is also listed.

The Will County allotment, which has been calculated from records of the United States Department of Agriculture, is 179,636 bushels. This is the total number of bushels allotted to the county under the wheat plan. The total of the individual allotments, including those allotments which could have been assigned to farms which are not participating under the wheat program, must be in line with the county allotment figure.

(Signed) M. J. PATTERSON, Chairman, County Allotment Committee; Geo. Beckwith, Fred Lauterbach.

NEW LENOX TOWNSHIP

Community Committee Ray M. Smith, Chairman, Henry Schroeder, Joseph Kestel.

Name of applicant	Section	Total acres on farm	Allotment in bushels	Maximum 1934 wheat acreage
Francis John	9	315	745	40
Gougar Harlow	20	160	117	8
Handorf John	34	230	1045	47
Johnson August	31	160	607	29
Kestel Joseph	33	279	760	32
Kestel Peter & Mike	33	355	631	35
McLaughlin John L.	29	180	390	20
Nelson Chas. A.	29	160	222	18
Nelson Robert	21	40	65	4
Reiter Raymond	33	240	443	23
Schneider Clara E.	30	154	217	11

FRANKFORT COMMUNITY

Community Committee, Fred Lauterbach, Chairman, John Cryder, Hal B. Reed.

Name of Applicant	Section	Total acres on farm	Allotment in bushels	Maximum 1934 wheat acreage
Gilchrist John F.	15	360	754	42
Kohl Lawrence	5	160	58	4
Marti Ervin A.	6	108	106	8

Live Stock AUCTION SALE

Dairy Cows, Horses, Pigs, Sheep, Chickens, etc
Every Tuesday on old Peabody Farm 3 miles northwest of Hinsdale, 1 mile north of Westmont, 5 miles N. W. of LaGrange, 1 mile north of Ogden Ave. All under cover. Sale rain or shine on Tuesday. Bring along anything you have to sell.

FRANK MARTIN, Phone Hinsdale 460Y4

Chamberlin & Sloan

Funeral Directors

617 Clinton St., Joliet, Illinois

Orland and Mokena Representative

Howard Beagley

Telephone Orland Park 78

SHIFTING USES FOR CORN BROUGHT ON CORN-HOG TROUBLE

Numerous changes in the utilization of corn since pre-war days have hastened the present troubles of Will County corn and hog producers and made steps like the government's corn-hog program necessary, according to Farm Adviser Leonard W. Braham and the extension service of the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois.

Out of each 50-bushel wagonload of corn Will county produced in the pre-war period, 1910-1914, nearly 9 bushels went to horses and mules, 8 bushels to cattle, a little more than 18 bushels to hogs, 1/2 bushel to sheep, 3 1/2 bushels to livestock not on farms, and 4 1/2 bushels to poultry. In those pre-war years industrial and commercial concerns used 4 1/2 bushels, families on farms accounted for about 1/2 bushel, and about 3 pecks were exported. A little more than 1 peck from this 50-bushel load went for seed.

During the period 1924-1929 the picture changed markedly. A 50-bushel load of corn would have been divided up with 2 bushels less to horses and mules, 1 bushel more to cattle, nearly 3 bushels more to hogs, 1/2 bushel more to poultry, more than 2 bushels less to livestock not on farms and almost 1/2 bushel less for export. The proportion utilized by industrial and commercial concerns, by families on farms and by farmers for planting remained practically unchanged.

In other words production which formerly went to horses and mules has been largely diverted to feeding other livestock, particularly hogs. Of approximately 210 million bushels decrease in the quantity fed to horses and mules and to livestock not on farms, from the period 1910-1914 to the period 1924-1929 around 80 million bushels went to cattle feeding and about 120 million to hog feeding.

Similarly, the combined decrease of around 30 million bushels in exports, industrial and commercial utilization and consumption by farm families was absorbed by an increase of around 35 million bushels for poultry feeding.

In the face of all these changes in the utilization of corn, the acreage of this crop has remained fairly constant at near 10 million acres. Basically, the problem is an excess of corn. Corn acreage in Will County and in other corn growing areas must be cut down enough to compensate for the reduction in hog production. Merely reducing the pig crop would in itself reduce the quantity of corn required for hog feeding. This would lessen the demand for corn at a given price; corn prices would drop in their relation to prices of hogs. But as feed-grain prices declined, production of other kinds of livestock would be stimulated. There also would be a strong temptation to re-expand hog production.

For each reduction of 10 head in hog production, therefore, from 6 to 8 acres depending upon yield, should be retired from growing corn.

NEW LENOX

The New Lenox relief organization held its monthly business meeting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Mangun Wednesday. Mrs. Margaret Papke, president, was in charge. Plans were completed for a pound and bundle party to be held Monday night, November 27th in the School Auditorium. The committee in charge consists of the following: Mrs. Jesse Marshall, Miss Harriett J. Francis, Mrs. Alice Miller, Fred Francis and Louis Hoffman. Receipt of clothing and yard goods from the Red Cross was reported by Mrs. Isabel Francis, Red Cross chairman.

The next meeting will be held on Thursday, November 23rd. Officers will be elected at this meeting. Fred Francis, Louis Hoffman and Mrs. Jesse Marshall comprise the nominating committee.

A social hour was held at the close of the business meeting honoring the birthdays of Jesse Marshall and Fred Francis. Lunch was served at eleven o'clock by the hostess and Mrs. Vernon Mangun and Mrs. Gaylord Mangun.

A cabinet meeting to elect officers was held by the Community League Wednesday night in the home of Mrs. Merna Sievert. Zolita Holt was elected president; Harold Alexander first vice-president; Roland Fitzer, second vice-president; Mildred Sayers, third vice-president; Everette Gullickson, fourth vice-president; Evelyn DeLong secretary-treasurer.

Officers and directors of the New Lenox State Bank held a regular monthly business meeting Wednesday afternoon in the bank office.

Sam Moore is a patient in Wellesley hospital, Chicago.

Mrs. August Osmus was honored by a birthday celebration in her home Wednesday afternoon. Among the guests were her four sisters, Mrs. Sidney Batson, of Joliet; Mrs. Robt. Stephens of Frankfort; Mrs. Louise Scherpe and Mrs. Anna Bethel of New Lenox.

Mrs. Sarah Rosewell and family have moved from the Episcopal church parsonage to the Knickerbocker home.

Mr. and Mrs. George Osmus spent the past week with relatives in Missouri.

The Golden Rule Camp of Royal Neighbors sponsored a card and bunco party Friday night in Urch hall. Prizes were won by Dorothy Koerner, G. F. Krog, Mrs. Ida Pfaff, Bob Reed, Zolita Holt and Frank Alexander.

Ray Walsh Jr., entertained friends in his home Friday night at a Halloween party. Stunts and games were played. Guests were present from Joliet, Frankfort, New Lenox and Spencer.

LINCOLN ESTATES

Henry Sluiter, Reporter.

Miss Elsie Linquist entertained at a Halloween party at her home on the Lincoln highway, Saturday evening. About twenty-five children were present who came dressed in masquerade outfits and which were all very colorful. Much fun was had bobbing for apples and tying the tail on the donkey. Prizes were given for the best results. Mr. Andrew Linquist was masked as the old witch. Refreshments consisting of sandwiches, cake, doughnuts and cocoa were served. All enjoyed the evening very much.

The Gatter school, district 156A, had their school party Tuesday afternoon in the school. Some of the pupils came dressed in Halloween costumes. Games were played and Miss Matter, the teacher, read some short Halloween stories. Jig-saw puzzles of cats and pumpkins were played. Refreshments were served.

Walter Niedringhaus visited with friends in South Bend, Indiana last week.

Orville Hartmann was absent from school a few days because of illness.

The pupils of the Ann Rutledge school were given a Halloween party at The Barn, by the Parent-Teacher Association last Friday. All had a good time playing games and later refreshments were served.

Mrs. S. Tyler has returned from the hospital.

Mrs. Hattie V. Ganey will return home with her son Henry Popp.

The Ladies Auxiliary of the V. F. W., held a bunco and card party at The Barn Monday night. It was a big success. A quilt was awarded to Mrs. Van Ham of Joliet.

Mrs. Otto Niedringhaus spent Saturday in Joliet. Mr. Niedringhaus, who is away, is expected home Sunday for a short visit with his family.

Mrs. Henry Popp attended a bunco party in Chicago Thursday, given by the Ladies Auxiliary of V. F. W. Post No. 397.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Smith and Miss Clara and Martha Bakman of Chicago, spent Sunday in the A. C. Becker home.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Mattson and Margaret Bergman spent Sunday evening with Russel Scott in Hammond, Ind.

Mr. Gustave Kulth celebrated his 72nd birthday Saturday Oct. 28.

Irvin and Marvin Kluth attended the Halloween party at the Lindquist home Saturday evening.

Public Service Co. of Northern Illinois

Copy No. 2453-4 cols. x 12 in.-Nov. 1933

TO EVERYONE who pays a bill for electricity and gas

The reasonableness of electric and gas rates affects the pocketbook of every citizen, directly or indirectly. That you may understand the situation, there is published below the statement made October 24th before the Illinois Commerce Commission, at a formal rate hearing, by James Simpson, chairman of Commonwealth Edison Company, The Peoples Gas Light and Coke Company, and Public Service Company of Northern Illinois.

Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen of the Illinois Commerce Commission:

BEFORE you begin formal hearings in the citation for a reduction in rates by the Public Service Company of Northern Illinois, I ask your indulgence to present a statement. What I will say also applies to the Commonwealth Edison Company and The Peoples Gas Light and Coke Company. Reversing the time-honored order of procedure, I am prefacing my remarks with what would, under most circumstances, be the conclusion of them. That is a request—a frank, open, straight-forward request—that this body postpone hearings looking to a further downward revision of rates by the three companies mentioned, until such time as those companies and your honorable body may know more about the future than it is possible to know today.

To Avoid Increased Rates

The companies are making every effort to absorb the extraordinary and unforeseen expenses recently added to their burdens, hoping that they will not be forced to petition this Commission for relief through increased rates.

There are four major items involved in the management of these public utilities, two having to do with their revenues and two with their expenses. Let me briefly mention them:

1. The first is rates. This matter is either in your hands or in the hands of the courts. The companies may initiate rates. But in the final analysis the companies have no control of the rates, their very lifeblood. I do not contend that they should have such final control, but I do contend that rates should be fair, and this means adequate to provide a reasonable return upon the capital invested for the service of the public.

2. The second item, affecting the gross revenue of the companies, is the quantity of electricity and gas consumed by their customers. Over this, broadly speaking, the companies have no control. The extent of the customer's use of these services is a matter wholly of his own choice or needs. The company must sell but the customer is not required to buy. The depression and hard times have taken their toll from these companies and only recently has there been any encouraging upward trend. Consumption is still far below normal.

3. The third item is our normal daily operating expenses which may be spoken of as controllable expense. It is the only one of the four major items over which the companies have a large measure of control. Their control over this item is limited by the necessity of protecting the high standard of the service rendered. From intimate and personal knowledge of our business I know that the three companies have done a good job in reducing this part of their operating expenses.

Uncontrollable Expenses Mount

4. The fourth and last item is the uncontrollable portion of the companies' expenses. It is in part composed of state, county and local real estate and personal property taxes, state franchise taxes, state capital stock tax, federal capital stock tax, federal tax of 3 per cent on sale of electricity, municipal franchise tax, federal income tax, and various other governmental charges.

Recently the Department of Finance of the State of Illinois has attempted to apply the 2 per cent Illinois Retailers' Occupational Tax—the so-called "sales tax"—to electric and gas services. The companies believe that the furnishing of these services is not retail sale of tangible property, at which the law is specifically directed. Consequently, we are contesting this tax in the courts. May I add that public utilities represent the only business that does not have the privilege of passing this tax on to the consumer.

Taxes Increase $7,867,000 Per Year Emphasizing further this matter of taxes, within the past ten months the three companies have had new and increased taxes levied or proposed to be levied against them, some going back to the years 1931 and 1932, amounting to more than $14,500,000, of which the companies had no knowledge a year ago. A portion of these increased taxes is chargeable to the years 1931 and 1932 because of the confused tax situation in Cook County. The earnings statements of the three companies for these two years reflect these increased taxes. Certain of the new taxes such as the federal tax of 3 per cent on the sale of electricity and one or two other new forms of taxation above mentioned, have been imposed under laws passed during the current year and therefore, have been effective during only a part of the year 1933. The full effect of these new and increased taxes has not yet been felt. If all these additional taxes be continued the estimated increase in taxes will amount to $7,867,000 per year.

Further down in this list of uncontrollable expenses is the cost of investigations made by this Commission imposed within the past six months by amendments to our State Law. Even more recently there has been added to this list a substantial increase in expenses due to the codes under the National Recovery Act.

One large and unyielding element in the list is interest on outstanding bonded debts, representing capital expenditures necessarily incurred for the rendering of service to the public.

Net Revenue Drops $18,500,000

I am not going to burden this presentation with too many figures for this Commission is thoroughly familiar with them, but I do wish to bring out one significant figure resulting from the startling trends in the three uncontrollable items to which I have just referred. It is a comparison of combined operating figures for the three companies for the year 1933 with the more normal year of 1930. The reductions in the estimated gross earnings from operations of the three companies for 1933 on the one hand, and the increases in taxes and other uncontrollable items on the other hand, result in a reduction of income in excess of $25,000,000.

Partially offsetting this decrease in income, the controllable expenses will be some $6,500,000 less in 1933 than they were in 1930. Therefore, the combined net operating income of these three companies for 1933, after the payment of interest and before the payment of dividends, will be at least $18,500,000 less than in 1930. This graphically tells the story of the past three years.

Dividends and Stockholders

This condition quite recently made necessary the suspension of dividends by The Peoples Gas Light and Coke Company on its $67,000,000 of outstanding capital stock. Since 1931, dividends on the $162,000,000 of outstanding capital stock of Commonwealth Edison Company have been cut in half, and dividends on the $63,000,000 of outstanding common stock of Public Service Company of Northern Illinois have been reduced to one-fourth of their former level.

Gentlemen, in the face of a sub-normal demand for electricity and gas, resulting in a sub-normal revenue, in the face of increasing uncontrollable expenses, and in the face of rapidly rising costs which will be accelerated if we have any form of inflation or deflation, you are asking these companies further to reduce their rates.

Economic realities must be faced. Any further rate reductions or increases in taxes are impossible at this time without seriously affecting these three companies.

Nothing is to be gained by seeking to attribute the present situation to anything that may have occurred in the past. For past history, neither the present members of the Commission nor the present managements of the companies are in any measure responsible. Under the trying conditions now prevailing, it is our task to look forward, not backward.

Utilities' Credit Essential to Community

This community, embracing the City of Chicago and the surrounding area, is dependent in a large measure for its prosperity and growth upon these three companies. Any injury to them affecting their credit or their service inevitably means great damage to the community at large.

The maintenance of the credit of these institutions is entirely possible with reasonable rates. Whether present rates with improved conditions will be adequate for the restoration of the earnings, remains to be seen. But any reduction in rates at this time is unthinkable.

The consumer is interested in the maintenance of adequate rates because that is the only way to insure good service.

Illinois Residents Vitaly Interested

While every consideration must and should be given to our customers, our stockholders numbering over 100,000—more than 90,000 of whom reside in Illinois—must not be lost sight of. Illinois is vitally interested in the successful operation of these three companies for in its confines reside over 70,000 bondholders, 90,000 stockholders, 15,400 employees, and upwards of 65,000 other persons gainfully employed in ways dependent upon the activities of these companies. An ultra conservative family multiplier of 3 applied to this army of 240,000 persons leads one to the conclusion that one person out of every 10 in the State has a direct interest in the prosperity of these three companies.

The Public Utility Law of this State was designed to protect the investor as well as the consumer—the one who renders the service as well as the one who enjoys it. The question is far from a one-sided one. It is by no means true that a reduction in rates would injure a few and aid many. A rate reduction not warranted by prevailing conditions would bring about as great an injustice to the consumer as to the investor.

Our responsibilities as managers of these companies, and we take these responsibilities with all seriousness, are to render to our customers the best possible service at the lowest possible rates, to give to our stockholders a reasonable return on their investment, and to pay our employees a fair living wage. These things we can do only with fair and reasonable rates.

Industry in this country cannot survive unless Government permits it to earn a reasonable—and I use that word advisedly—a reasonable return on its invested capital.

Commission's Broad Interest

I appreciate the grave responsibility resting upon the shoulders of the members of the Illinois Commerce Commission, appointed by the Governor of this State to administer the Public Utility Law. I am aware of the pressure that is constantly put upon persons in your position to force reductions in rates. This pressure is always more severe in time of economic stress like the present.

Your responsibility under the Public Utility Law of guarding equally the interest of the consumer and of the investor calls for a judicious balancing of their interests, remembering that in the last analysis their interests lie along the same lines. The discharge of this responsibility calls imperatively for a facing of facts, which do not lie in your power or ours to alter.

Neither you nor we can materially increase the consumer's use of electricity and gas.

Neither you nor we can control the welter of ever-increasing taxes.

Neither you nor we nor anyone else, can foretell what the trend of industry and commerce is going to be in the next twelve months. We all hope upward, but not one of us knows.

In conclusion, I repeat my request that cold, stern facts and present-day conditions be given the right of way over any other considerations and that this Commission defer its efforts to reduce rates during this period of national recovery.

JAMES SIMPSON
Chairman

Along the Concrete

Our Pet Peeve

Hope for Increase in World's Radium Supply

Will Canada one day be able to supply us with all the radium we require for our hospitals? There are large deposits of radium-bearing ore in the great Dominion, and these are now being worked. They may transform the world radium situation.

For years now British hospitals have been seriously handicapped in their great fight against cancer by the high cost of radium, which has been practically a Belgian monopoly. Most of it comes from Katanga, in the Belgian Congo, which turns out about three grammes a month.

Rad'um is playing a vital part in fighting this scourge, and in view of this protests were recently made in parliament against the heavy duty collected on such imported radium. In reply the treasury announced that it should be removed. This relief lowers its price by about a third.

New radium-bearing deposits have been discovered at Glenelg Hills, western Australia; and other deposits at Wodgina are officially considered as eminently suitable for working. They yield one grain of the precious element to each ton of ore.

—London Answers.

How Acid Stomach Makes Itself Known to You

HERE ARE THE SIGNS:

- Nervousness
- Frequent Headaches
- Neuralgia
- Feeling of Weakness
- Indigestion
- Sleeplessness
- Loss of Appetite
- Mouth Acidity
- Nausea
- Sour Stomach
- Auto-Intoxication

WHAT TO DO FOR IT!

TAKE—2 teaspoonfuls of Phillips' Milk of Magnesia in a glass of water every morning when you get up. Take another teaspoonful 30 minutes after eating. And another before you go to bed.

OR—Take the new Phillips' Milk of Magnesia Tablets— one tablet for each teaspoonful as directed above.

If you have Acid Stomach, don't worry about it. Follow the simple directions given above. This small dosage of Phillips' Milk of Magnesia acts at once to neutralize the acids that cause headache, stomach pains and other distress. Try it. You'll feel like a new person.

But—be careful you get REAL milk of magnesia when you buy—genuine PHILLIPS' Milk of Magnesia. See that the name "PHILLIPS" is on the label.

ALSO IN TABLET FORM

Each tiny tablet is the equivalent of a teaspoonful of Genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia.

MEMBER N.R.A.

Scales on Scalp—Hair Fell Out Terribly

Healed by Cuticura

"My scalp bothered me terribly and there were scales as big as a ten cent piece over it. It itched so that I could not keep my hands from my head and my hair fell out terribly. I did not rest. This lasted two and one-half years.

"I saw an advertisement for Cuticura Soap and Ointment and sent for a free sample. I was surprised at the difference in my scalp after using, so I bought more, and I used two cakes of Cuticura Soap and two boxes of Cuticura Ointment and my scalp was healed." (Signed) Mrs. Eugene Hunter, R. D. 1, Hunlocks Creek, Pa.

Soap 25c. Ointment 25c and 50c. Talcum 25c. Sold everywhere. One sample each free. Address: "Cuticura Laboratories, Dept. R, Malden, Mass."—Adv.

Don't neglect your kidneys

Heed Promptly Kidney and Bladder Irregularities

If bothered with bladder irregularities, getting up at night and nagging backache due to disordered kidney or bladder function, don't delay. Use Doan's Pills. Merit only can explain Doan's worldwide use. Get Doan's today. At all druggists.

Doan's PILLS

A DIURETIC FOR THE KIDNEYS

WNU-A

43-33

THE FEATHERHEADS

By Osborne

FINNEY OF THE FORCE

By Ted O'Loughlin

BOBBY THATCHER— The Tyrannosaurus..

S'MATTER POP— The Old Swimmin' Hole

"KEEPING UP WITH THE JONESES"

TANGLED WIVES

By Peggy Shane

Copyright by Peggy Shane.
WNU Service

CHAPTER IX

—15—

They were in a large room with twin beds. Rocky turned on a light over a dressing table.

"Now, Rocky. Don't you see I've got to be told everything now?"

"In the morning."

"No. Now. Am I what's-her-name—a girl who shot her husband at a wedding?"

The words were out. Had she killed someone? And was that the reason Rocky wanted to get her away from places, because if she were caught she would be hanged, electrocuted?

She sat down in a chair and stared at him. Had she cut off the life of someone—killed her own husband? "Oh G—d," she begged silently, "say it isn't true. I couldn't have done that!"

As Rocky still did not answer she rose and threw open the window. She inhaled deeply. She could breathe—but someone else couldn't because she had—

"Rocky, don't you see I've got to know now, or else go crazy?"

Rocky came and stood beside her. "Don't feel so, Doris. You're tired. If you get a good night's sleep, I'll—well maybe I will tell you about it in the morning."

She turned up a suffering face. "I won't sleep, Rocky. I've got to know now. Tell me the truth. Truly, I can bear it now."

Rocky avoided her eyes. "There's really not much to tell."

"Anything is better than this uncertainty."

"Perhaps that's true," Rocky gently removed her hand from his arm. He ran his brown fingers through his hair. "Can't you trust me, Sweet?"

Sweet! For a moment she felt a lifting of spirits. Rocky's tone was so tender. But then he used words like that all the time to all women. She gave a little laugh that she could think of that now. It was a bitter sardonic little laugh.

"You can't shut me out from my past forever. Besides—" she sat down on the bed. "I'm not a coward." She was silent. Rocky sat down beside her, took her hand.

"Please wait—"

"No, no." She got up. "I—I can't wait. I have a right to know. I'll—I'll ask Mr. St. Gardens what it's all about. I'll tell him everything I remember. He will tell me. He won't keep me in agony any longer. I can't bear this uncertainty. Anything is better."

She controlled herself, looked at him gravely. "Did I—Rocky? Did I do—that awful thing?"

Rocky looked at the carper miserably. "D—n it, how do I know? I can only guess—like everybody else."

"Then it isn't a sure thing?"

"Oh, they think it's sure, all right."

His lips drooped unhappily. "Perhaps you—went out of your mind."

"Then it was—I did—that is—Rocky. I can't be a murderess. I didn't kill anyone." Her eyes, haggard and strained, searched his face for an answering faith.

She found it. He looked back at her squarely. "That's the way I feel about it."

"I couldn't kill anybody."

"I know you couldn't." He patted her head, against his knee. "I've always known that about you."

"Then why—" she turned suddenly to him. "Why is there such a mysterious silence about me? Why were we arrested? Why have we been racing like mad away from New York?" She stared at his quiet face for a terrified second. "I know! I'll ask the police. I'll go to the station! I must find out."

"Wait—don't you see, Doris? I'm only trying to help you."

She stared into his eyes then. Her hand dropped suddenly to her lap. "I did, then. I did kill someone."

Rocky's silence was terrible to her. She drew close to him. "I didn't, Rocky. I didn't. Tell me I didn't. Why, I couldn't have killed anybody, Rocky. I know that much about myself, don't I?" She looked at him pitifully. He took her hand and held it tightly.

After a while he said huskily, "That's the way I feel, Doris. That you couldn't have."

"Please tell me how it happened."

Still Rocky paused. At last, his cheek close to hers, he said slowly, "It's—been in all the papers. It happened the day I sailed. So I didn't see much about it until I got back. Then—of course your picture has been everywhere—"

"My picture."

He nodded. "It's you, all right. I didn't see it until that night you fainted when you saw it. But—you didn't remember when you came to, again—"

She brushed her hair back from her damp brow. "But Rocky, what did—that man I supposed to have done?"

Rocky cleared his throat and tried to speak in a matter-of-fact way. "Why, this girl is supposed to have shot her husband with her father's gun and then—"

She could not speak. She had shrunk away from him, covered her face with her hands.

"Then she disappeared," went on Rocky. He leaned over and tried to take her hands. "Must I go on?"

Doris raised her face. "But Rocky, don't you remember I was with my husband in the cab? He was still alive then. Someone else must have shot him afterward. He was awful, Rocky, and I was afraid of him, but you remember, don't you, how I left him? I didn't shoot him."

Rocky's hand pressed nervously over his hot brow. "I think you—perhaps you haven't been well," he stammered.

"You mean," the words dropped with a bedraggled courage, "you mean I've lost my mind."

"I mean I think you lost it for a short time, when—when this happened."

"How did you know? I mean how have you learned anything about me?"

"I—I thought you guessed. The papers have been full of it."

"What do they say?"

Rocky looked away, as if he were detaching the subject from her. "Why, they say this girl is supposed to have killed her husband on her wedding night," he said again.

"Oh!" She clung to his eyes for sympathy. "Oh! And you think I did that?"

Rocky took her hands pityingly, but she drew away. "Doris, I didn't—but your photograph—"

"Why did you want to take me to Canada?"

"Why did I want to take you? I am taking you. The first thing tomorrow. If I can get you to Quebec I can get you on a boat and—well, I think you'll be safe enough in Paris."

"But Rocky—"

He looked at her inquiringly. She wanted to ask, "But why are you doing this for me?" Something in his eyes made her unwilling. She said instead, "I'll have to give myself up, you know."

He patted her shoulder gently. "I'll not let you."

She stared up at him earnestly. "Rocky, if I'm caught are you guilty, too? I don't mean guilty—but isn't there some terrible penalty for hiding police. You have been formally indicted for murder in the first degree. You'd even be denied bail. You—I'm afraid you'd collapse completely."

"I won't go to pieces again." She leaned her head on her arms confidently. "Now that I know what I have to fight—well—I'm going to fight it. Do you really think I'd deliberately let you in for a thing like this—?"

Rocky whirled and looked squarely at Doris. His lean features twisted bitterly. "Give yourself up, then. I'll go with you to the police the first thing in the morning. But don't forget this. You speak about implicating me. I'm already implicated. More than that, St. Gardens is implicated. I don't say we can't get him out of it, but it will be a nice thing to have happen to him just as his only daughter is about to be married. Beatrice is marrying the son of a governor—Rhode Island or Delaware—some little state, but they're getting plenty of publicity—it's one of the biggest weddings of the year. A little murder publicity—"

Doris cried out, "Oh I won't spoil her wedding. I'll go away—I won't do it—" Her voice stopped in the middle of the sentence. She was thinking that she would have to slip away from Rocky, too. A shiver ran up her spine. She knew then that most of her new-found courage sprang from Rocky's friendship. When she left him, what would become of her—police—prison—death?

Rocky grasped her elbow. He had read her thoughts. "You mustn't try to run away from me. Whatever happens you'll stick with me. Promise?"

"I can't promise that." She looked up at him. His eyes were full of tragedy. "But don't look like that, I'm afraid I haven't the courage to run away from you."

Relief flooded his face. He smiled. "Then listen, Mrs. Conscientious. I've got an idea. I know you're right in everything you say. You ought not to run. You ought to fight. Here's another idea. Supposing that you stay here quietly for a few days. I could leave you with Beatrice. Then I'll go back to Morristown, New Jersey, and get in touch with your real family. Perhaps we can arrange to get you out on bail if you do give yourself up."

"I don't know why you want to do all this for me."

Downstairs a door closed. Rocky went to the door. "I'm going to speak to Beatrice now. Will you go to bed?"

Doris shook her head. "No. I'd like to talk to her, too."

"All right," Rocky opened the door. "Wait. I'll bring her back up here."

When Rocky had gone, Doris turned out the light and sat down by the windows. In spite of all that he had said she knew that there was only one thing for her to do. She must not repay his great friendship by involving him in her trouble. The time must come when she would go on alone.

"But not tonight," she whispered. "Perhaps it's awfully cowardly. But not tonight."

What was Beatrice saying in answer to Rocky's disturbing story? Would she think Rocky was crazy to have done so much for a criminal and a murderess? At the thought of Rocky the dark outlines of the room dissolved. A host of magic particles illuminated the blackness, assaulted her senses. She lost herself in a dream.

She heard Rocky at the door, and sprang up. She turned on the light as he came in with Beatrice St. Gardens.

Beatrice stared fixedly at Doris for a short moment. Then she turned her head and looked at Rocky.

"This child! You mean—she's Diana Merrell?"

Rocky nodded.

Beatrice smiled. "Nonsense!" she said vigorously.

"You think she isn't?"

"Of course she isn't. She never murdered anybody. Any person of sense can see that."

She held out her hand to Doris cordially. "Forgive me for talking about you as if you were deaf, dumb and blind—but it's all so extraordinary. Anyway, I'm glad you've come."

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

"She Never Murdered Anybody. Any Person of Sense Can See That."

someone like me—You're accessory before the fact—or—"

"Or what?"

"Or something."

"What a mind. What a legal mind. A master's, really."

She was not to be diverted by any attempt at fooling. In spite of all Rocky's precautions, she had been caught once. She would be caught again. Rocky would be arrested, Mrs. Du Val would—

She said huskily: "There's no use in your being involved. Think of your mother."

"I'm thinking of my mother. One of the first things she ever taught me was to stick by my—my friends."

Her heart contracted. "You're being rather wonderful. I wish I could do something to show you how much I appreciate you—your friendship—" she walked nervously to the window. A light was moving far away in the woods. "A car is coming."

"I expect it's Beatrice coming home from her party. It's so late, Doris. You ought to get some sleep."

"What's my real name?"

"Diane. But I'd rather not call you that?"

"Is it so absolutely sure that I did this? Do you suppose losing my memory has transformed me into an entirely different sort of person?"

"I don't know what to think. I think you ought to get some sleep."

"If I married this man—I must have loved him, mustn't I?"

Rocky nodded gloomily. "I suppose so."

"Say I didn't," argued Doris. "Say I hated him. Even so—I hated the man in the cab. But I didn't want to hurt him. I wouldn't kill him if he walked into the room right now." She shivered slightly. "I don't know. It seems odd to me. I feel certain I couldn't kill anybody."

"It isn't that I don't believe in you, Doris. I believe in you beyond all sense. The thing that worries me is what you would have to go through—once you were in the hands of the police. You have been formally indicted for murder in the first degree. You'd even be denied bail. You—I'm afraid you'd collapse completely."

"I won't go to pieces again." She leaned her head on her arms confidently. "Now that I know what I have to fight—well—I'm going to fight it. Do you really think I'd deliberately let you in for a thing like this—?"

Rocky whirled and looked squarely at Doris. His lean features twisted bitterly. "Give yourself up, then. I'll go with you to the police the first thing in the morning. But don't forget this. You speak about implicating me. I'm already implicated. More than that, St. Gardens is implicated. I don't say we can't get him out of it, but it will be a nice thing to have happen to him just as his only daughter is about to be married. Beatrice is marrying the son of a governor—Rhode Island or Delaware—some little state, but they're getting plenty of publicity—it's one of the biggest weddings of the year. A little murder publicity—"

Doris cried out, "Oh I won't spoil her wedding. I'll go away—I won't do it—" Her voice stopped in the middle of the sentence. She was thinking that she would have to slip away from Rocky, too. A shiver ran up her spine. She knew then that most of her new-found courage sprang from Rocky's friendship. When she left him, what would become of her—police—prison—death?

Rocky grasped her elbow. He had read her thoughts. "You mustn't try to run away from me. Whatever happens you'll stick with me. Promise?"

"I can't promise that." She looked up at him. His eyes were full of tragedy. "But don't look like that, I'm afraid I haven't the courage to run away from you."

Relief flooded his face. He smiled. "Then listen, Mrs. Conscientious. I've got an idea. I know you're right in everything you say. You ought not to run. You ought to fight. Here's another idea. Supposing that you stay here quietly for a few days. I could leave you with Beatrice. Then I'll go back to Morristown, New Jersey, and get in touch with your real family. Perhaps we can arrange to get you out on bail if you do give yourself up."

"I don't know why you want to do all this for me."

Downstairs a door closed. Rocky went to the door. "I'm going to speak to Beatrice now. Will you go to bed?"

Doris shook her head. "No. I'd like to talk to her, too."

"All right," Rocky opened the door. "Wait. I'll bring her back up here."

When Rocky had gone, Doris turned out the light and sat down by the windows. In spite of all that he had said she knew that there was only one thing for her to do. She must not repay his great friendship by involving him in her trouble. The time must come when she would go on alone.

"But not tonight," she whispered. "Perhaps it's awfully cowardly. But not tonight."

What was Beatrice saying in answer to Rocky's disturbing story? Would she think Rocky was crazy to have done so much for a criminal and a murderess? At the thought of Rocky the dark outlines of the room dissolved. A host of magic particles illuminated the blackness, assaulted her senses. She lost herself in a dream.

She heard Rocky at the door, and sprang up. She turned on the light as he came in with Beatrice St. Gardens.

Beatrice stared fixedly at Doris for a short moment. Then she turned her head and looked at Rocky.

"This child! You mean—she's Diana Merrell?"

Rocky nodded.

Beatrice smiled. "Nonsense!" she said vigorously.

"You think she isn't?"

"Of course she isn't. She never murdered anybody. Any person of sense can see that."

She held out her hand to Doris cordially. "Forgive me for talking about you as if you were deaf, dumb and blind—but it's all so extraordinary. Anyway, I'm glad you've come."

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

TELLING FATHER

He had been calling every night in spite of the warnings from his sweetheart about her irate father. This particular evening they had been planning their elopement.

Only the hall clock, announcing that the witching hour had been reached, broke the silence.

Then, without warning, a thump and a click were heard, and the room was flooded with light. There stood father, glowering and puffing at the terrified young caller.

"Who are you?" he bellowed.

The young man gulped and turned pale. But the color returned to his face suddenly, and rising to his feet, he said in a clear, loud voice: "I'm her brother."

Minor Official

"Now," said the bridegroom to the bride when they returned from their honeymoon trip, "let us have a clear understanding before we settle down to married life. Are you the president or the vice president of this society?"

"I want to be neither president nor vice president," she answered. "I'll be content with a subordinate position."

"What position is that, my dear?"

"Treasurer."—London Tit-Bits.

Stunning Alibi

Liza was on the witness stand.

"Are you positive," inquired the prosecutor, "that you know where your husband was on the night this crime was committed?"

"Ef Ah didn't," replied the witness firmly, "den Ah busted a good rollin' pin over an innocent man's haid, dat's all."—Boston Transcript.

Dominant Policy

"I can't quite decide whether our distinguished colleague is for protection of free trade."

"He is still sounding out his constituency," replied Senator Sorghum. "The only policy on which he is absolutely consistent is self-preservation."

What Really Counts

Mrs. Fitzwell (socially inclined)—My dear, I've picked out a husband for you.

Daughter—Very well, but I tell you emphatically that when it comes to buying the wedding dress I'll select the material myself.—Seaside Herald.

But Try and Get It

Steward (on board ship)—Madam, I've attended to you as best I can, and I've supplied every want, but you still seem unsatisfied. What do you want now?

Lady (seaside)—I want the earth.

Flattering to Neither

"Hollywood stars are just like anybody else," says an interviewer. "It is a question," writes L. W., "whether this will be resented most by the stars or everybody else!"—Boston Transcript.

ALWAYS ON THE JOB

"That machinist is the most thorough man at his trade I know."

"What makes you think so?"

"He not only works all day, but bolts his food at meals, rivets everybody's attention and hammers every new idea advanced."

UNQUESTIONABLE INFLUENCE

"Have women helped politics?" "I won't try to say," answered Miss Cayenne. "In any event you've got to admit that they have made it a whole lot more interesting."—Washington Star.

Nix on the Nude

Peggy—I want to help you, dad. I shall get the dressmaker to teach me to cut out gowns.

Dad—I don't want you to go that far, Peg, but you might cut out cigarettes and taxi bills.—Boston Transcript.

No Time for Ornaments

Mandy—I've decided to leave mah husband.

Hanna—How come? Is you beginnin' to economize?—Life.

Service De Luxe

Manageress of Cafe—Being attended to, sir?

Diner—Well, I rang once and the waitress took my bell away.

Good for Him

"John talks in his sleep."

"How's that?"

"He recited in class today."

NO PUZZLE AT ALL

He—How do you find the water? She—Oh, that's easy. It's right next to the shore.

Rolling-Pin?

"Just think, while I was out with some fellows the other night, a burglar broke into our house."

"Did he get anything?"

"I'll say he did—my wife thought it was me coming home."—Ohio Motorist.

NOW IT'S UP TO YOU

WRIGLEY'S SPEARMINT

THE PERFECT GUM

N-193

Copyrighting the Bible

The Bible is common property, but various special or revised editions of it are copyrighted. A Bible publisher, for instance, may copyright his system of indexing or his illustrations. The American Standard Revised Version is "copyright, 1901, by Thomas Nelson & Sons, New York, to insure purity of text." Subsequent revisions have been similarly protected by their publishers or editors.

Faster Relief Now From Neuritis

MR. CLARK WANTS TO SEE ME IN AN HOUR ABOUT THE BIG INTERNATIONAL DEAL....

AND NEURITIS IN MY ARM IS DRIVING ME CRAZY

DON'T WORRY! JUST TAKE 2 BAYER ASPIRIN TABLETS. THEY'LL STOP THE PAIN IN A FEW MINUTES

2. LATER —

WELL I PUT OVER THE DEAL! AND I CAN THANK THE QUICK WORK OF THAT BAYER ASPIRIN YOU SUGGESTED

OH, THAT'S WONDERFUL, MR. JONES, I KNEW IT'D WORK!

Real BAYER Aspirin "Takes Hold" of Pain in Few Minutes

Now comes amazingly quick relief from headaches, rheumatism, neuritis, neuralgia... the fastest safe relief, it is said, yet discovered.

Those results are due to a scientific discovery by which a Bayer Aspirin Tablet begins to dissolve, or disintegrate, in the amazing space of two seconds after touching moisture. And hence to start "taking hold" of pain a few minutes after taking.

The illustration of the glass, here, tells the story. A Bayer Tablet starts to disintegrate almost instantly you swallow it. And thus is ready to go to work almost instantly.

When you buy, though, see that you get the Genuine BAYER Aspirin. For Bayer Aspirin's quick relief always say "BAYER Aspirin."

Does Not Harm the Heart

WHY BAYER ASPIRIN WORKS SO FAST

Drop a Bayer Tablet in a glass of water. Note that BEFORE it touches bottom, it has started to disintegrate.

What it does in this glass it does in your stomach. Hence it's fast action.

Does Not Harm the Heart

THE NEWS-BULLETIN

WM. SEMMLER, Editor & Publisher
Published Every Friday at
MOKENA, ILLINOIS

Entered as second class matter at the postoffice at Mokena, Illinois, under the act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

SUBSCRIPTION PRICE.
Per year, in advance$1.50
Six months, in advance75
A. M. Levy, Advertising Representative,
6 North Michigan ave., Chicago

A. M. Levy, Advertising Representative,
6 North Michigan ave., Chicago

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 4, 1933

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Fresh Swiss cow and fresh Holstein cow. Aug. H. Wille, Central Ave., near 175th St., Tinley Park, Ill. Tel. 25-J-2. Tinley Park.

LOST—Eight year old boy's suit wrapped in newspaper at 80th ave., and Blue Island, Ill. Reward. Finder please notify Carl Bormet, Tinley Park, Tel. 30-W-2.

FOR RENT—5 room house. Modern. Inquire Barney Hostert, Mokena, Ill. Tel. 66-J. 2tc

FOR SALE—Genuine Quaker Oil Heater. One year old. Best offer. R. Bert W. Utte, 143rd st. 82nd ave., 1/2 mile east of Orland Park. Tel. Orland 129-J1. 3tp

FOR RENT—8 room house on Wolf road. Inquire at Conoco station 159th and Wolf road. 2tp

FOR RENT—Four room house with bath and garage. Modern. Mrs. W. J. Moxley, Mokena, Ill. 2p.

FOR SALE—A heater and cedar chest. Leon Tonn, Mokena, Ill.

PARTIES Desiring to sell hatching eggs the coming year, communicate with Community Hatchery, Tinley Park, Ill.

FOR SALE

1931 Chevrolet Coach good condition; low mileage; cheap.
F. H. GLAHN, Orland Park, Ill.
Phone Orland Park 1

DENTIST

H. E. CRAIG
Office Hours: Wed. and Sat.
Afternoon and Evening.
Call Orland 166 at any time for Appointment
Orland Park, Illinois

Diet Expert Shows How to Have Variety in School Lunch

The Ideal Type of Luncheon for Growing Boys and Girls Is Shown Above.

By FRANCES BERKELEY FLOORE
Director of Dietetics, St. Luke's Hospital

THE problem of the school lunch really begins, not at noon, but at breakfast, for if the child does not have an adequate breakfast taken slowly he is apt to be so hungry by recess time that he will eat the largest part of his lunch then instead of waiting until noon. This is what the "best" breakfast includes: One helping of fruit; one cup of milk, 3/4 cup cereal breakfast food (whole grain is desirable); 2 slices of toast with butter.

As to the lunch itself—fresh milk, vegetables, and fruits are first essentials. If a hot dish containing them is not served at school they should be included in the lunch carried from home. Incidentally, that hot dish served at school is very necessary.

Here is a standard "pattern" for the school lunch that should be followed in general. It allows, of course, for infinite variety.

1 cup of milk in some form
Whole grain bread, and butter
1 serving of vegetables or fruit (preferably both)
1 serving of such foods as eggs, cheese, fish or meat
Something sweet but not rich

Knowing how to pack the carried lunch when it contains liquid foods is almost as important as knowing what those foods should be. Milk may be carried in half-pint milk bottles or fruit jars, screw top jars such as those in which candy and salad dressing are sold, or bottles and pa-

TELEPHONE MAN'S QUICK ACTION BRINGS NEEDED AID

Driving along an open highway out of Yankton, S. D., recently, just as he had done many times before, H. L. Lethcoe, installer-repairman for the Northwestern Bell Telephone Company, observed an automobile collision. Hurrying to the scene, he found that one of the cars had overturned and a woman was seriously injured. Climbing a nearby telephone pole and tapping a line with his test set, he called a doctor. He then returned to the scene of the collision and administered first aid to the injured. Upon the arrival of the doctor, it was found necessary to remove the injured woman to a hospital without delay, and again Mr. Lethcoe climbed the telephone pole, this time to call an ambulance. His arrival on the scene and his prompt action were factors in saving the woman's life.

WINNETKA CENTRAL OFFICE HAS HISTORIC SITE

The new central telephone office in Winnetka, Ill., which has just been placed in service, occupies a historic site as it stands on what is believed to be the exact spot of the first trading post in the Chicago North Shore region.

BOASTS FIFTY-SIX YEARS OF TELEPHONE SERVICE

"A telephone user for fifty-six years," is the record of the W. P. Waxter Company of Baltimore, Md. When the telephone was first introduced in the city, in 1877, W. P. Waxter, founder of the firm of W. P. Waxter and Sons, Inc., became one of the first patrons, realizing, when other people failed to do so, that the telephone would be an asset to business. He died in August, 1914, but the W. P. Waxter part of the firm name continued, as his son assumed control of what is now the oldest ice business in Baltimore.

LARGER SWITCHBOARD NOW IN SERVICE AT CAPITOL

President Roosevelt received the first call through the new private branch telephone switchboard recently opened at the Capitol to handle calls of Senators and Representatives. The call came from South Trimble, clerk of the House. The new switchboard is installed in the House Office Building annex, replacing a smaller switchboard which had been outgrown. It is under the direction of Mrs. Harriet G. Daley who has a force of thirty-one operators, furnishing service to 2,000 telephones.

Sea Influences Volcanoes
The most active volcanic regions are the ones nearest the sea. Science Service

TINLEY PARK

Miss Jeanette Freberg entertained a company of friends at a Halloween party Tuesday night. This was a costume party.

The Sewing Club met with Mrs. V. H. Scheer Wednesday afternoon. The Bachelors Grove Lutheran church will hold their bazaar and supper at the Saenger Hall, Nov. 23.

Wm. Stockman, our well known florist, took some very choice chrysanthemums to the Chicago flower market Friday.

Arthur Naumann has resigned his position with the Tinley Park Bakery and has taken up a position in Chicago.

Paul Rauhoff has located his real estate office in the Vogt building, formerly occupied by a florist.

A group of friends gave a surprise house warming in the new home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Cowens, Wednesday. All had an enjoyable time.

MOKENA

Fred Hentsch is suffering with ulcers on his left eye. He had two eye teeth pulled with the hope of finding improvement.

Mr. and Mrs. Lowitz and Mr. and Mrs. Edmunds of Chicago were guests Sunday in the L. G. Bruder home.

NOT responsible for any debts contracted in the name of Martin Sandrock Jr. Signed: Martin Sandrock, Jr.

Mrs. Everett Cooper entertained the Catholic Woman's Club in her home Tuesday.

Mrs. Amelia Lorenzen returned Saturday to the home of her daughter, Mrs. Herman Schweser with whom she is making her home. She has had a most delightful summer, visiting with seven of her nine children.

dren who live in various parts of Kansas and Colorado. She was gone four months. Her daughter, Mrs. Alvin Abrahamson of Macksville, Kansas, formerly Miss Christina Lorenzen, accompanied her mother home. Mrs. Abrahamson will visit a while with relatives and also attend A Century of Progress.

Robert Marks is suffering from several broken ribs.

Mrs. Mary Jackson enjoyed an auto ride Wednesday morning around Mokena, the first since last June.

In the Louis Sandrock obituary appearing last week the names of two brothers were omitted from the list of the survivors. The surviving brothers are Martin and Joe Sandrock both of Mokena.

William and Bob both hailed from Wilmette;
Bob always drank milk—now HE has a valet.
But Bill drank gin.
Now trouble's his twin.
'Twas health that kept Bob from the fate that Wilmette.

Don't Miss Joe Mosele And His Band
Goodings Grove, 143rd St., & Bell Rd.
Saturday, November 4, 1933
Dancing 8:30 to 1 o'clock

$10 Reward

$10 Reward will be paid for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the person or persons stealing rose bushes from the grounds of the Mokena Oil Company.

Fred G. Rauch, Mokena

It's So Easy to Telephone Your Order

JUST CALL TINLEY PARK 14-R FOR FRESH CUT FLOWERS, BLOOMING PLANTS AND FUNERAL DESIGNS.

Will make the selection carefully, arrange the bouquets artistically and deliver wherever you say—when you say—

Stockman's Greenhouse, Tinley Park

SALE NOV. 3rd & 4th

BUTTER, PRAIRIE GOLD Reg. 28c 25c
COFFEE, BOURBON, Regular 22c 19c
COFFEE, PEABERRY Regular 28c 24c
CORNFLAKES, LARGE 12c
CORN GOLDEN SHEAF, No. 2 12c
FLOUR SILK FLOSS, 24 POUNDS 99c
SOAP PALMOLIVE, 3 BARS FOR 19c
SOAP P & G, BAR 4c
AMERICAN FAMILY FLAKES 19c

Geo. F. Wannemacher

Phone 30

MOKENA, ILLINOIS

Auction!

A community Sale will be held on the farm located at 147th and Ridgeland Ave., commencing at 10 a. m., on Saturday, Nov. 11, 1933

HORSES, CATTLE, HOGS, POULTRY FARM MACHINERY AND A LOT OF OTHER MERCHANDISE WILL BE OFFERED.

Anyone having anything to consign to this sale get in touch with any of the undersigned.

No Commission charged on articles not sold.

Lunch served on grounds.

Terms Cash.

Erickson & Schmaedeke, Auctioneers.

HENRY KIMMEL, Orland Park, Ill. Manager

News Among the Churches

Orland Park Churches

ORLAND PARK M. E. CHURCH

(A Friendly Church)

John W. Mullen, Pastor.

9:30 a. m. Church school. Mr. George Munch, Supt.

10:45 a. m. Divine worship. The Victory Sunday will be observed this Sunday.

Our church services are definitely planned to overcome the worries of the week, to induce quietness of mind, to put men and women in touch with God and His Eternal Truth. Have you been overlooking this great source of strength?

The teacher Training Class will meet Tuesday at 2:00 p. m.

To care for children too old for Story Hour and too young for the young people's organized group, a Junior Church is to be conducted. This will be held Sunday afternoons from 4 to 6 on the Sundays alternating with the Saturday Story Hour. For the purpose of organization, will the children from 9 to 15 come to the church next Sunday at four o'clock.

Next Sunday will be set apart as Victory Sunday. The program of morning worship services at 10:45 o'clock will be devoted to appropriate exercises in the dedication of the pledges in a formal manner. An Honor Roll will be placed in the church bearing the names of those who have signed their intention to support the Forward Program which will prepare the way for the celebration of the 65th anniversary of the coming of Methodism to this vicinity.

The Mothercraft Class will not meet this Sunday or next Sunday.

CHRIST LUTHERAN CHURCH

Orland Park, Illinois.

Rev. A. Lach, Pastor.

(A Changeless Christ for a Changing World.)

Orland Park, Illinois.

Rev. A. Lach, Pastor

Divine services this Sunday will be in German and begins at 10 a. m.

S. S. and Bible Hour, at 9:00 a. m. Strangers are always welcome.

FRANKFORT M. E. CHURCH

C. F. Schellhase, Pastor.

Miss Eva Jean Pfaff, Organist.

Mr. Wesley Hollstein, Sunday School Superintendent.

Divine Worship at 9:30 a. m. Subject, "The Way Of Life."

Sunday School at 10:30 a. m.

Father and Son banquet sponsored by the Frankfort Men's Endeavor Club will be held on the evening of Monday Nov. 6th, at 7:00 p. m. at the church. An elaborate program has been arranged. The Ladies Aid of the church will serve the dinner.

Program Father and Son Banquet.

Father and Son banquet, Frankfort M. E. Church, Monday Nov. 6th at 7:00 p. m.

Chairman, Mr. Wesley Hollstein, President Men's Endeavor Club.

Proclamation Endeavor

Song by the Men's Club

Prayer, Rev. C. F. Schellhase.

Dinner

Musical Director, Emil Woodman

Toastmaster, Frank Kohlhaagen

Group of songs by male quartette: Wesley Hollstein, Urban Schellhase, Lawrence Woodman and Reuben Schellhase.

Address by a Father: Mr. George Brandau.

Group of songs by the Sweeney Boys.

Address by a Son: Mr. Reuben Schellhase.

Solo, Mr. Emil Woodman

Principal Address: The Rev. L. L. Hammitt, D. D. District Supt., of the Joliet Dixon District.

Song: "Blest Be The Tie," by Men's Endeavor Club.

Benediction by Rev. C. F. Schellhase

GREEN GARDEN M. E. CHURCH

C. F. Schellhase, Pastor

Miss Emma Andres, organist.

Mr. Edwin Bettenhausen, Sunday school supt.

Sunday School at 9:30 a. m.

Divine Worship at 10:45 a. m.

Subject, "A Command and On Invitation."

Choir Rehearsal Tuesday at 7:30 p. m.

The Ladies Aid will meet at the church parlors, Wednesday Nov. 8 at 1:45 p. m. Mrs. George Bettenhausen will entertain.

The Green Garden M. E. Sunday School elected the following officers for the ensuing year: Superintendent, Mr. Edwin Bettenhausen; Vice Supt., Wm. Bettenhausen; Supt., of Primary Dept. Mrs. Edwin Dralle; Supt., of Cradle Roll, Miss Evelyn Beckmann; Secretary, Miss Esther Bettenhausen; Treasurer, Norman Krapf; Librarian, Miss Luella Bettenhausen; Pianists, Mrs. Alvin Wanner and Miss Esther Bettenhausen.

The following church ushers were elected: Mr. Elmer Bettenhausen and Mr. Edwin Dralle. Substitutes: Mr. Alvin Wanner and Mr. John Landau.

Green Garden Epworth League

Elects Officers For The Year.

The Green Garden M. E. Epworth League met at the church parlors Friday evening Oct. 27 to hold their annual election of officers which was followed by a social hour. The 4th Vice President, Mrs. C. F. Schellhase and her staff had arranged to give the occasion a Halloween effect. Some 70 young people were in attendance. Games were enjoyed until a late hour when refreshments were served. A very delightful time was enjoyed. The following officers were elected: President, Earl Bettenhausen; 1st Vice Pres., Emory Bettenhausen; 2nd Vice Pres., Reuben Schellhase; 3rd Vice Pres., Miss Elda Krapf; 4th Vice Pres., Miss Katherine Flemming; Sec., Miss Marcella Bettenhausen; Treas., Miss Esther Bettenhausen and Pianist, Mrs. C. F. Schellhase.

ST. PETER'S EVAN. CHURCH

Rev. G. Gerhold, pastor

German Service 8:30 a. m.

Bible School 9:30 a. m.

English Service 10:30 a. m.

Holy communion will be observed at close of both services Sunday Nov. 5th.

Church supper next Thursday afternoon and evening Nov. 9. Two plays will be given in the evening.

The District Council meeting of the North Illinois District was held here Wednesday. The Ladies Aid of St. Peters served the dinner.

Special attention is called to the coming of Stanley Jones, World famous missionary to Joliet next Wednesday in the High school.

MOKENA CHURCHES

ST. JOHN'S EVAN. CHURCH

E. J. Moritz, Pastor

Sunday School at 9:30 a. m.

Church service at 10:30 a. m.

Next Wednesday Nov. 8 in the afternoon at 2 o'clock, Mrs. Val Scheer our Cradle Roll Supt., will give a Cradle Roll Party. All Cradle Roll mothers and babies are heartily invited and also the grandmothers are welcome. Miss O'Connor, a nurse will be the guest speaker.

Friends: It will be a big treat for you to hear Stanley Jones in Joliet High school Nov. 8. Admission is free. See Rev. Moritz for tickets.

ST. MARY CATHOLIC CHURCH

Rev. Father Roman, O. F. M.

Mass 1st Sunday in month 7 to 9 a. m. Other Sundays 9 a. m.

IMMANUEL LUTHERAN CHURCH

W. J. Geffert, Pastor

Sunday School at 9:00 a. m.

English services on first, third and fifth Sunday at 10:00 a. m.

German and English service on 2nd and 4th Sunday. German at 10 a. m. English at 11 a. m.

MOKENA M. E. CHURCH

Rev. Ralph M. Gray, pastor

PASTOR'S SERMONS

Nov. 5—"What do we Mean, Trust God."

Nov. 12—"What do we Mean, Saved."

Nov. 19—"Why Sing?"

Nov. 26—"We Thank Thee."

EVANGELICAL ST. PETERS CHURCH, GREEN GARDEN

G. W. Webbink

Divine services at 10: a. m.

TINLEY PARK CHURCHES

ZION LUTHERAN CHURCH

Rev. Albert Buddenhagen, pastor

Sunday school at 9:00 a. m.

English services 10 a. m. German services at 11 a. m.

TRINITY LUTHERAN CHURCH

Oak Park Ave., & 159th Street

Rev. Wm. Greve, Pastor.

The Men's Club meets every Tuesday evening for practicing Dart Ball Business meeting the first Tuesday of the month. Reception of new members.

TINLEY PARK M. E. CHURCHES

Rev. Chas. H. Hedler, Pastor

Tinley Park English M. E. church Preaching service 9 a. m.

Sunday School 10 a. m.

Tinley German M. E. church Sunday School 9:30 a. m.

Preaching service at 10:30 a. m.

There is a young lady named Sophia

Green,

Whose total pounds number two hundred fifteen.

No wonder she's fat.

She eats cake and all that.

Scoons milk that would help make her lean.

You'll Find 24 World-Famous Comics in NEXT SUNDAY'S CHICAGO HERALD AND EXAMINER.

Among Them Will Be Bringing Up Father, Tillie the Toiler, Mickey Mouse, Boob McNutt, Barney Google, the Katzenjammer Kids, Tim Tyler's Luck, Felix the Cat, Dave's Delicatessen, Toonerville Folks, Toots and Casper and many others.

Cranberry Cultivation

Out of a total of 29,904 acres of cranberries in the United States, 14,000 are in Massachusetts and 18,000 in New Jersey. Cranberries are little grown outside of the United States. About 100 acres are being cultivated in Nova Scotia and they have been tried with little success in Norway, the Netherlands and Denmark.